$757,000 Oil Bonds
Turned Back.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 1.—(Special.)—Harry F. Sinclair told the senate's Teapot Dome scandal investigation today what he wanted them to know about the Continental Trading company, Ltd., deal and no more. He admitted that he received $757,000—the missing fourth share of the $1,830,000 realized in the transaction—and asserted that that amount, with $142,000 accrued interest, was turned over to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company last week. Beyond that he would not go, and after battering at him for four and a half hours the weary senators gave it up for the day, ordering Sinclair back tomorrow. The oil magnate volunteered nothing, parried questions whenever possible and when cornered fell back on the time-honored "I don't remember."

Once when Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.), pounding the desk and livid with anger, literally shouted a question at him, Sinclair calmly opened a piggy bank and coolly asked, "You don't mind it—smoke, do you, senator?" The question never was answered.

Story Differs from Stewart's.
Sinclair's story of the participation in the profits of the Continental company—for the benefit of the Sinclair Consolidated company, he insisted—varied considerably from that told by Robert W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, who also admitted receiving a fourth share and who also declared the money had been turned over to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company a few weeks ago.

The ability of the Continental company to fulfill its purchase contract was guaranteed to the producers by Stewart and Sinclair because, the latter said today corroborating Stewart's previous testimony, the Standard and the Sinclair Consolidated were in urgent need of oil.

Sinclair insisted today he never heard of the Continental company until he entered into the conference which resulted in the purchase and resale contracts and was led to believe that Harry M. Blackmer, who organized the deal, was "the Continental himself" and hoped to make 25 cents a barrel commission on the $2,000,000 barrel deal for himself. Blackmer is now a fugitive in France.

Protested to Blackmer.
"I protested to Blackmer that I thought his commission was exorbitant," declared Sinclair, "and in the discussions we had before I signed that guarantee, he assured me that my company, or myself, for my company, would receive a fair proportion of the commission."

Accordingly, Sinclair continued, from time to time packages of bonds were delivered to him, sometimes by Blackmer and sometimes by messenger, until a total of $757,000 had been received.

The bonds were kept, Sinclair said, in a private vault in his New York home until a few days ago, when Stewart revealed to the senate committee that he had turned the bonds he received over to the Crude Oil Purchasing company. Sinclair said he decided to do likewise.

Only Flustered Once.
Only once during the four and one-half hours was Sinclair flustered by a question. He had admitted paying $252,000 of the $757,000 to Albert P. Fall, former secretary of the interior, shortly after a Sinclair company secured the Teapot Dome lease, but insisted that it was intended to purchase a one-third interest in Fall's Tres Ritos cattle and land company in New Mexico.

Then Senator Walsh read him excerpts of testimony which he gave the committee on Oct. 29, 1922, during the original Teapot Dome investigation, when Sinclair flatly denied having purchased any lands in New Mexico.

"Well, what have you to say about that testimony?" demanded Senator Walsh.

Sinclair Hesitates.
For a moment or two Sinclair hesitated and turned to his attorney, Martin W. Littleton, sitting at his side. Senator Walsh warned Littleton that he could not advise Sinclair how to testify.

"It speaks for itself," said Sinclair finally.

"But," said Senator Walsh, "you have just testified that you acquired a third interest in Fall's ranch property in May, 1922."

"At the time I testified," said Sinclair, "I was on page 16, column 13."

Challenge Action.

BY PARKE BROWN.
(Pictures on back page.)

Oscar De Priest, Negro leader of the Third ward, was named by the congressional committee of the First district yesterday to succeed the late Martin B. Madden as the Republican nominee for congress from that district.

Page 1.

The action, it was announced, was the unanimous vote of the five ward committeemen—of whom De Priest is one—constituting the committee. They met behind closed doors in one of the rooms of the Thompson-Crowe headquarters, and although none of the big bosses entered the meeting, it was believed that the decision had been dictated by Mayor Thompson.

Page 1.

However, there may be trouble ahead for De Priest in one or more ways, observers said. Those Negro leaders who oppose him challenge the validity of the committee's action, since none of its members has received his credentials from the election commissioners. Assistant Attorney General Harrison announced that if De Priest establishes a right to the nomination, he, Harrison, will run against him as an independent.

Page 1.

Dawson Attacks Action.
William L. Dawson, the leading Negro candidate against Madden in the primary, attacked the right of the committee to act. Its members, Daniel Serrinella, First ward; Dan Jackson, Second; De Priest, Third; W. C. Plunkett, Eleventh; and John O'Brien, Thirteenth, were shown elected ward committeemen on the face of the unofficial returns.

Page 1.

"But the primary proclamation has not been issued by the election board," said Dawson, "and until it has been issued their certificates of election have no legal authority to act. If my claim to the nomination is correct, the fact that Congressmen Madden died before the proclamation, is denied, we shall go into court to prevent De Priest's name from appearing on the ballot."

Page 1.

Dawson's claim, it is believed, will be denied. County Judge Jarecki said during the day that there was no merit to his petition.

Page 1.

Harrison Enters Fight.
"If the Dawson petition is denied," said Assistant Attorney General Harrison, "and even if we lose the fight to keep De Priest's name off the ballot, we still shall refuse to allow him to win by default. If this great district is to be sent to congress the first Negro seen there in more than a quarter of a century, we have the right to say who that Negro shall be."

Page 1.

De Priest said he was not "worried or excited" by these utterances. "The law is plain," he said, "and if it becomes necessary the committee will sustain the validity of its action in the courts, going as far as the Supreme court if that is necessary."

Page 1.

De Priest is now 57 years old. He is a large man, not particularly dark, and his hair is liberally streaked with gray. He has served one term as county commissioner and one term as alderman, being the first man of his race to be elected to the latter office.

Page 1.

It was during his term in the city council that he was indicted in connection with the graft scandals under Chief of Police Charles C. Healey. He was charged with receiving something like $3,000 from the owners of vice and gambling dens in the black belt.

Page 1.

The defense was that the money turned over to De Priest was for campaign purposes. A jury acquitted him on June 9, 1917.

BULLETIN.

Police early this morning seized Dannie Rooney, 24, 3315 Washington boulevard, as a suspect in the slaying of Pearl Eggleston, Berwyn movie theater usher. At the detective bureau Rooney was viewed by James E. Blum, treasurer, and Ernest Delzer, doorman, of the Ritz theater. Both said he looked "something like" the man who killed Miss Eggleston. He was taken to the Berwyn police station where he will be viewed today by the cashier of the theater who saw the killing. Yvonne and Madeline LaFleur, and Samuel Messano also were taken into custody at the Washington boulevard address and questioned. Chief of Detectives Grady intimated he did not believe the partial identification of Rooney would "stand up." The arrest was said to have been made on a tip from the underworld.

The city councils of Berwyn and Chicago offered rewards totaling $1,000 yesterday for information leading to the capture and conviction of the three bandits, one of whom on Sunday killed Miss Pearl Eggleston, 17 year old usher at the Ritz theater in Berwyn. Police Magistrate Joseph Cerny of Berwyn added $100 to the rewards.

The crime has shocked the whole community. The Chicago council adopted a resolution offered by Ald. Horan (36th) saying:

"Whereas, the entire city is stunned with horror at the wanton and cold blooded slaying of Miss Pearl Eggleston, the commissioner of police is hereby authorized to offer a reward of $500 for her slayers."

The police revealed that perpetrators of a theater holdup in Cicero recently are believed responsible for the killing of the girl last Sunday night when she screamed as the theater cashier was being robbed.

Page 1.

Recalls Cicero Robbery.
During the Cicero robbery an audience of 1,000 was unaware of what was happening when, on March 18, three armed youths drove up to the Annetta theater, 2337 South 63d avenue, and took $1,000 from the cashier, a manager, who was in the cashier's cage at the time. Five persons who were passing the theater at that time were forced by the robbers to stand in the lobby with their faces to the wall.

Page 1.

Methods used in each robbery and the similarity of the descriptions of the robbers lead police to believe that the same trio committed both crimes.

The Cicero witnesses will be asked to view suspects seized in the hunt for Miss Eggleston's slayer.

Inflicted by a piece of metal torn from a money changing machine by the bullet that killed her friend who was with her in the cashier's cage at the time of the holdup. The cashier, with a physician, went to the Berwyn police station, but was unable to identify a suspect there.

Methods, Appearance Similar.

Chief of Police Charles Levy is inclined to the belief that Miss Eggleston was murdered by a youth, her sudden recognition of whom made her scream. He thinks a young man may have obtained information from her as to the location of the $1,400 taken in the holdup without her having any idea, he was a robber. Rather than face certain identification by her whom he had expected to be at work inside the theater, the youth killed her, Chief Levy believes.

"I wish they'd keep their crooks in Chicago," Mayor Frank J. Janda of Berwyn said. "The fact that the car was found there shows where the slayers came from."

ROWLEY SEIZED FOR SLAYING OF HOTEL KEEPER

Thomas J. Rowley, police character with a long record, who has been sought for several days as the slayer of David Sher, owner of the Paradise Arms hotel at 414 Washington boulevard, was arrested last night. He was taken to the detective bureau, where he was questioned by Chief of Detectives Michael Grady. The capture was made at 2327 South Park avenue by Sgt. John Kelly of the bureau.

Page 1.

Sher was shot down in the lobby of the hotel early on the morning of April 25. Rowley, two other men, and a woman had registered a short time before. According to police, they reappeared in the lobby intoxicated.

Page 1.

When Sher remonstrated with them Rowley, who had registered as T. J. Loftus, is said to have drawn a revolver and shot him. All four then fled.

'Flu' Is Door
to Pneumonia,
Doctors Warn

Warning that pneumonia, recently in the front rank as the cause of deaths in Illinois and other sections of the country, is still on the increase and that persons recovering from influenza are peculiarly susceptible to that disease, was issued yesterday by speakers and delegates at the 72d annual meeting of the Illinois Homeopathic medical association in the Palmer house.

At the same time it was brought out that the Chicago district has just gone through three distinct epidemics, now almost at an end—one of influenza, another of old fashioned grip, and a third a sort of epizootic, a malady not dangerous but uncomfortable, according to Dr. Frank Brauer, Chicago physician.

Gives Pneumonia Warning.

The pneumonia warning was issued by Dr. Theodore Baczmeister, another Chicago member of the association. Speaking from the floor of the meeting, he asserted that victims of influenza often leave their beds and physician's care too soon and as a result quickly find themselves ill of secondary pneumonia.

Dr. Baczmeister cited as a case in point the death of Floyd Bennett, who was stricken during his flight to the aid of the German-irish flyers on Greenly Island.

"The patient recovering from flu may feel fine," Dr. Baczmeister said. "He may still have a little fever and not realize it. Then a slight bit of carelessness and he finds himself on his back with pneumonia. And the bigger they are physically the more danger there is."

Tells What Epizootic Is.

Dr. Brauer said he recently had found evidence of all three epidemics. He explained that the epizootic malady is for humans much like distemper in dogs and horses, but is not dangerous.

Page 1.

"It is like a raging cold in the head," he said.

Dr. Brauer said he found many of his patients who thought they had flu were really suffering from old fashioned grippe. He said the symptoms are a general bodily weariness, chills, and an aching all over the body.

Page 1.

The meeting will continue through Thursday. The annual banquet will be held tonight. Prof. Richard C. Borden, business manager of the American Institute of Homeopathy of New York, will be the principal speaker.

Survives Razor and Noose, So He Ends Life with Gun

Having failed to end his life by slashing his throat with a razor and then by hanging himself, Joseph Oisewski, 22 years old, was successful in his third attempt at suicide yesterday when he shot and killed himself in his room at 1648 Cullerton street. He had been dependent over unemployment, it was said.

Returns from 5,291 of the state's 8,753 precincts showed Gov. Smith had 53,661 votes; Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, 23,888; and Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, 16,381.

support they have received from the business of Boulder dam and the McNary-Hansen plan, the Tammany traders and other groups they are confident that the veto can be overridden.

Lined with the pack barrel log rolling in behalf of the flood control bill there was a lobbying and propaganda campaign the like of which has not been witnessed in many years.

How Propaganda Was Spread

The principal propaganda organization behind the flood control bill is the Chicago flood control conference organized and headed by Mayor Thompson of Chicago. This organization was initiated with $14,000 which Mayor Thompson is said to have received in contributions to the expense of his "victory tour" shortly after his election.

Thereafter the organization raised a fund to promote the flood control legislation the amount of which has been variously reported. One report is that more than $100,000 was contributed to grease the ways. The understanding is that the chief contributors to the fund were Chicago timber and lumber companies owning lands in the proposed floodways which would be benefited by the legislation. A large part of these holdings are cutover swamp lands acquired from the government originally at $1.25 an acre. The lumber companies now contemplate selling back to the government at from $5 to $75 an acre.

That so large a fund as $100,000 was raised by the Chicago flood control conference is emphatically denied by the sponsors of the legislation. They assert that the fund never exceeded $25,000 and that a large part of it came from a $25,000 fund raised by the city of New Orleans. It is also asserted that the lumber companies did not contribute more than $3,000.

Investigation Is Agitated

In this connection it is believed that administration leaders will demand an investigation of the financing and operation of the flood control lobby.

The chief flood control lobbyist in Washington for the last year has been James M. Thompson, the New Orleans publisher. He has devoted himself assiduously to promoting the legislation. He is a familiar figure in the corridors of congress. He says that he never has received a penny of compensation or expense money from any organization. Before he came to Washington in this connection with this legislation Thompson was chairman of the Safe River committee of the delta region of Louisiana. Then he became a member of the New Orleans committee of 24 of which Mayor O'Keefe of that city is chairman. Mr. O'Keefe also has been active in the lobbying campaign in Washington.

His Illinois Propaganda

For direction of the flood control propaganda the city of New Orleans loaned Thomas F. Hill to Mayor Thompson's organization. Hill is a clerk of the New Orleans city council. Lately Hill established himself in a costly suite at the Mayflower hotel and commenced to dispense propaganda and hospitality.

Mayor Thompson made several trips to Washington, coming on one occasion at the head of a special train of flood control boosters. He lobbied lustily for the measure imposing the entire burden of cost on the federal government, and providing for the flowage rights bonanza for the lumber companies. He worked in close cooperation with Congressman Frank Reid (Rep., Ill.), who is a Thompson henchman reputed to enjoy a $50 per diem on the pay roll of the corporation owned by Chicago.

Lorimer Lends a Hand

Another lobbyist was Billy Lorimer, who owns 1,000 acres in the region affected by the flood control bill. As a former congressman, in the days before he was kicked out of the senate, Lorimer was entitled to the privilege of the house floor and he lost no time in availing himself of it. He was on the floor while the bill was debated and passed. Objections to the presence of a lobbyist for the measure on the floor were voiced to his face by congressmen in speeches, but Lorimer did not budge.

BRITAIN MAY CALL OFF RUM PACT WITH U.S.

Protests Violations by Coast Guard Fleet.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—(Special.)—Rum chasing activities of the U. S. coast guard outside the territorial waters of the United States have brought a protest from the British government that may result in abrogation of the existing liquor smuggling convention between the two countries, it became known today. Although the text of the note transmitted to the state department by the British ambassador, Sir Esmé Howard, several days ago, has not been made public, it is understood to have cited several instances in which coast guard cutters have violated the convention of 1923 which permits the United States to search and seize British vessels within one hour's steaming distance of the three mile limit.

Bahaman Agreement Violated

Particular mention is made in the note, it is said, of coast guard abuses of the so-called Bahaman agreement concluded two years ago with the British government by the dry chief, Lincoln C. Andrews.

Although the treasury department has already prepared a reply to the British note, it is asserted that Secretary Kellogg deems the situation serious enough to warrant consideration by President Coolidge and the cabinet. When the Bahaman agreement was concluded the British government in an aide memoire specifically pointed out that the measure to be adopted "do not constitute a binding engagement but represent a spontaneous and voluntary offer of assistance on their (the British government's) part which is subject to withdrawal if not found to work satisfactorily in practice."

Misunderstandings Frequent

Since the agreement became effective there have been many misunderstandings and considerable correspondence regarding territorial limits, legal jurisdiction and other phases of the problem. The most recent case was the result of the firing on the Isle of June, a British passenger and freight ship, by a coast guard destroyer off the Florida coast.

In the note handed to the state department Sir Esmé, it is understood, emphasized three specific instances "where American cutters allegedly violated the Bahaman agreement by steaming into British waters without the proper notification."

Three Instances Cited

A year ago the cutters Harriet Lane and General Greene entered Nassau harbor without, it is said, previous warning to the Bahaman authorities. On March 11 last the Travis and the Cuyahoga entered St. George's harbor, Bermuda, and remained there for several days without explanation to the authorities. Then on April 6, a third cutter, the Tiger, entered St. George's harbor under the same circumstances and while negotiations over the earlier incidents were still pending.

HOUSE INQUIRY ON FUNDS OF CANDIDATES FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Washington, D. C., May 1.—(Special.)—Information as to campaign contributions and expenditures will be sought from all the active presidential candidates in both parties. It was indicated today by Senator Stetson (Rep., Ore.), who was designated by Vice President Dawes as chairman of the special senatorial committee which is to investigate campaign funds.

Other members of the committee, as appointed by Mr. Dawes, are: Senators Dale (Rep., Wis.), McManister (Rep., S. D.), Barkley (Dem., Ky.) and Bratton (Dem., N. M.).

The committee expects to commence work at once in order to make a report before the adjournment of the present session of congress. Senator Stetson said he assumed that it was the intention that the committee should inquire into campaign funds of the two parties after the presidential nominations are made. He said if the resolution as adopted yesterday by the senate is not broad enough he would offer an amendment extending its authority.

CITY IS HARD UP, KEGEL DROPS 50 DOCTORS, NURSES

Fifty health department doctors and nurses, dismissed yesterday because of the city's financial shortage, probably will be reinstated within a few days as a result of an agreement by Mayor Thompson to intercede in their behalf. They have been in charge of medical inspection work in the schools, and last year were paid by the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, but were to be shifted to the corporate fund pay roll May 1. As only $12,000 remains in the corporate fund, according to the city controller's report, no money was available to pay them. Health Commissioner Kegel ordered their dismissal.

The mayor, Dr. Kegel said, promised to ask the sanitarium board to pay them until Jan. 1. Then it is hoped the corporate fund will be replenished.

ANNOUNCED IN MAY BAIL

Frank Kegel was arrested yesterday when prohibition agents confiscated an assorted stock of liquors in a raid at 6115 Wabash avenue. Stanley Kallinowski was arrested in a raid at 1801 North Street.

FOOTPUTSCOST OF BOULDER DAM AT 450 MILLIONS

Estimates Total at End of Thirty Years.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—(Special.)—The actual cost of the Boulder dam is more likely to be $500 million dollars than $350 million dollars, Senator Reed Smoot (Rep., Utah) asserted in the senate today, replying to an attack upon the bill.

On the basis of the higher initial cost, Senator Smoot estimated the net government investment at the end of thirty years, including interest and depreciation, would amount to the sum of $450 million dollars.

Senator Smoot concluded his two hour speech, and Senator Phipps (Rep., Cal.) commenced a criticism of the pending measure. Senator Phipps, who has offered a number of amendments, will continue his address tomorrow.

Smoot Offers Substitute Bill.

In bringing his exhaustive analysis to the bill to a close, Senator Smoot offered a substitute measure striking out all after the enactment clause and substituting the following principal features:

1. Authorization for the appointment of a board of engineers to examine into the broad problem of Colorado river development.

2. Construction by the army engineers of such flood control structures as may be recommended by this board without further action by congress.

3. An appropriation of $20,000,000 to carry out the investigation and build the flood control structures.

4. Provision for consummation of the Colorado river compact before the building of a dam is begun.

5. It is decided that a storage reservoir shall be used as a means of flood control.

Contrasts the Two Proposals.

"The amendment which I propose is designed to provide that when the proponents of this bill profess to be the quickest and most effective manner possible," said Senator Smoot, "it avoids the delay, the risks, the uncertainty, the impossible features of the present proposal. It leaves the river development of the river for future determination when we have more complete facts before us and avoids the great possible mistake of this measure which fixes the development of the river according to a plan which is obviously inadvisable and would be a source of constant regret to the nation to come."

"Finally, I propose the solution of the immediate problem by a method which protects the future, meets the present needs economically and wisely, and avoids the terrific risks and indefinite delay of the present measure."

Laying Road for Deficits.

Instead of letting the money back under the Johnson bill, the government will continue to require to make good operating deficits, Senator Smoot contended. Assuming that the power plant would be ready for operation at the end of ten years, Senator Smoot, giving detailed figures of the probable revenue from sale of electricity and operating costs, estimated that there would be a total deficit of $24,100,000, including interest charges on only a $25 million dollar investment. During the following twenty years the net investment of the government, on the basis of a cost of 125 million dollars, will thus reach $161,100,000 in 1925. If depreciation is provided for, said Senator Smoot, it should be, inasmuch as the amortization plan will fall, the total would be boosted to about 175 million dollars.

Same Total Cost of 450 Millions.

Using 250 million dollars as the original cost, and computing compound interest at 4 per cent but without figuring any depreciation on the additional cost, Senator Smoot said the government's net investment in 1925 would amount to 450 million dollars.

"This is my best 'intelligent guess' of the outcome at the end of only twenty years of operation of the Boulder project," said Senator Smoot. "It is, I think, obvious that under the bill the government of the United States is asked to take all of the financial risks of the undertaking, and these financial risks are so considerable that there is every prospect that all of the money spent will be a direct outlay from the United States treasury, none of which will ever be returned. It is quite doubtful if there will even be any return in the way of interest on the government's expenditure."

Senator Smoot compared the Boulder project with the bill enacted in 1913 to enable the city of San Francisco to obtain its water supply from the Hetch-Hetchy valley.

"There were those of us in the senate at that time who questioned whether it was actually necessary for the city of San Francisco to go to the Hetch-Hetchy valley for its water supply, and some of us were bold enough to suggest that, after all, the primary thing involved in that development was power," said Senator Smoot.

Senator Smoot commented upon what he said is a new governmental policy involving an entry into a business undertaking for the purpose of raising a project.

110,000 Homes Move

Chicago's last great moving day, so described by real estate and transportation experts, came to a close at midnight, with an estimated 110,000 families in new homes.

Old statistics showed that about 10 per cent of the city's population moved each six months. The present percentage, according to reliable figures, is much larger. Many new apartment houses and favorable terms offered tenants are said to have aided in the movement.

One north side news agency with 2,500 subscribers reported that 450 had changed residences. During the period immediately preceding May 1 moving concerns have worked long hours and advanced rates, but in spite of this were unable to care for all their calls.

In future, it was predicted, the crash will not be so great on May 1 and Oct. 1. Landlords and real estate agents have offered tenants leases expiring on other dates and it is expected that this "staggering" will prove of benefit both to lessors and lessees.

Sidney Hillman, of New York, international president, and Samuel Levin, manager of the Chicago joint board, made the principal addresses. The organization has a membership of 35,000 in Chicago.

REP. SWEET OF NEW YORK DIES IN PLANE CRASH

Leader for Years in State's Politics.

Whitney Point, N. Y., May 1.—(AP)—Thaddeus C. Sweet, member of congress from the 24th New York district, was killed in an airplane crash here today.

Congressman Sweet was flying from Bolling field, Washington, D. C., to Port Ontario, the army post near Oswego. The plane, piloted by Lieut. Rushrod Hoppin, left Washington at 10:20 a. m. As it neared Whitney Point bad weather was encountered, and Lieut. Hoppin decided that it was advisable to land and await better flying conditions. The crash came during the landing. The plane was nearly demolished.

Served as New York Speaker.

Mr. Sweet, who was in his 58th year, had acquired a substantial fortune in manufacturing paper. His mills were in Phoenix, the Oswego county village in which he lived. He became interested in local politics as a young man, and in 1908 he was elected to the assembly, where he served until 1922, holding the position of speaker for his last 8 years of service.

In 1920 he became nationally known for his activities which resulted in the expulsion from the assembly of five Socialist members. In the summer of 1920 he was prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

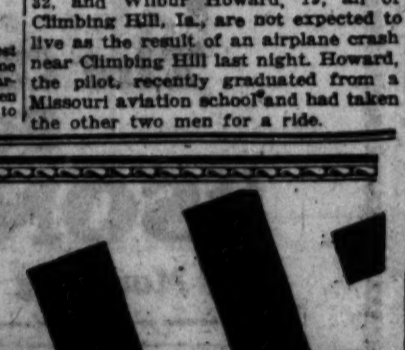

Three Dying in Iowa.

Sioux City, Ia., May 1.—(Special.)—Lewis Gallup, 25; Lewis Francis, 32; and Wilbur Howard, 19, all of Climbing Hill, Ia., are not expected to live as the result of an airplane crash near Climbing Hill last night. Howard, the pilot, recently graduated from a Missouri aviation school and had taken the other two men for a ride.

LINDY PLANS WORLD FLIGHT THIS SUMMER

Maj. Lanphier, Army Ace, May Go Along.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 1.—(Special.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh plans to fly across the Atlantic over the arctic circle course and tour the European capitals during this coming summer.

Full details have not yet been worked out, but under present plans he probably will be accompanied by the army's most renowned flight formation leader, Maj. Thomas J. Lanphier.

The trans-Atlantic ace has discussed his plans with Under Secretary of State Robert E. Olds and preliminary arrangements for part of the trip have been completed. The colonel will probably not attempt a nonstop flight.

To Go Via Newfoundland.

He is expected to make the trip to Europe via Newfoundland, Greenland, Iceland, and England, paralleling the route of the army world flyers.

The flight will be made in a Ford Trimotor all metal plane, if the plans work out as scheduled. Formal announcement of the itinerary, which is understood to include Asia, will not be made public for some time.

Col. Lindbergh has received invitations to visit virtually every country on the globe. In some cases the necessary diplomatic arrangements for the flight have already been made. Interested parties in Greenland have already assured Col. Lindbergh landing space will be available for him.

Col. Lindbergh conferred today with Dr. Charles G. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian institution.

It was decided that the Spirit of St. Louis, the famous Lindbergh plane, will be placed in the arts and industries building of the institution within the next few days.

180 FEET AT 1 WALL STREET PURCHASED FOR $7,000,000

New York, May 1.—(Special.)—The historic "chimney corner" at No. 1 Wall street, together with the adjoining property, extending on the south side of Wall street to New street and south on Broadway and on New street for a distance of 180 feet, was purchased today by the American Exchange Irving Trust company. It will construct a 46 story building on the site. The assessed valuation of the properties that changed hands is $7,000,000 and it is likely that more than that amount was paid by the purchasers. The "chimney corner" property is assessed at $576 a square foot, which exceeds the valuation placed on any other piece of real estate in the world.

RESTORES HEARING WITH GERMAN DISCOVERY

Science has made remarkable progress in making it possible for deafened people to hear. Recognized authorities on both continents consider a new discovery called "Dipoxone Combination" the most perfect means of making the deaf hear instantly. The device when worn is practically unnoticeable and the ear piece is so tiny it is worn in and not on the ear. Results are astonishing even in the most severe cases. Dr. Hugo Lieber is the distributor in the United States for this German invention. One of his experts, D. Farber, is making a demonstration right here in Chicago at the local office, Room 1212, 59 N. Madison St. Those who are deaf should call at once for demonstration.—Adv.

U. S. DEFENDS DRY RAIDER HELD FOR BURGLARY, ARSON

to Federal Court.

Rushville, Ill., May 1.—(Special).—Once again the federal government has intervened to prevent prosecution in the state courts of a dry raider. The federal courts have taken from the state courts the case of Daniel Halliwell who was to be tried on indictments charging burglary and arson.

That Old Revenue Law.
The government acted under the old revenue law which provided that men in the revenue service, accused by state officers, should be tried in federal courts and defended by federal officials.

Halliwell, formerly a federal dry agent, engaged in a raid on the farm residence of Bert Bellows, in Rushville township. He was accompanied by Deputy United States Marshal Moody and Law Enforcement Officer Bain of Jacksonville.

Following the raid, it was charged that the house was robbed of valuables and then set afire to conceal the crime. The Schuyler county grand jury indicted Halliwell on numerous counts for burglary and on several counts for arson. His trial was to have started in the Schuyler county courts on Tuesday, but the federal government took it into the federal courts on a writ of habeas corpus.

Called Bootleg King.
Bellows or Williams, as he was known here, came to Rushville and Schuyler county from Quincy where he was called the "King of Bootleggers." He seemed to have the inside information when the federal officers were going to Quincy and would notify the police what train they were coming on. He was tried once in Quincy for operating a still, but was not convicted. Bellows, it was said, has made a fortune in operating stills, but has paid a good share of this fortune for protection.

DRYS SCHEME TO SLIP DRASTIC BILL BY SENATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]
Washington, D. C., May 1.—With the aid of senate leaders, the Anti-Saloon league is pulling wires to slip legislation through congress in the closing days of the present session—boosting penalties for violation of the Volstead act.

The Republican steering committee of the senate, headed by Senator Sackett (Rep., Ky.), announced today that it has given a preferred status to the Jones bill, increasing prohibition violation penalties. The Jones bill, introduced by Senator Jones (Rep., Wash.) in the senate and by Representative Bialler (Rep., N. Y.) in the house, provides that a maximum penalty for dry violations of $10,000 fine or imprisonment for five years, or both. The present law provides that the penalty for a first offense be a fine not to exceed $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than six months. For subsequent offenses the maximum is $2,000 fine and five years imprisonment. In the case of violations of prohibition permits the maximum penalty for the first offense is $500, for second offense $1,000, and for a third offense the penalty is a fine of not less than $500 and imprisonment for from three months to two years.

Spokesmen for legitimate industries requiring prohibition permits protested to the senate committee on judiciary against making the $10,000 maximum apply to permit holders.

They contend that such action would be another oppressive measure applied to legitimate business in the name of prohibition enforcement.

The judiciary committee refused to approve a suggested amendment making the increased maximum apply only to violators who are not permit holders.

As a partial concession the committee approved an amendment limiting the application of the increased maximum penalty to criminal prosecutions. The committee also approved an amendment specifying that the bill should not be construed as repealing or eliminating any minimum penalty now provided by the Volstead act.

THOMPSON GROUP SPLIT ON BENCH NOMINEE TODAY

'America First' Fireworks

Thompson-Crowe leaders split yesterday over the selection of the short term candidate on the proposed fusion ticket for the Superior bench which Republican and Democratic county conventions are scheduled to nominate today.

Democrats is that the six sitting judges whose terms expire shall be re-nominated and that the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Hoses W. Wells shall be filled by the Republicans. It was on this seventh place the Republicans differed so sharply that an all afternoon conference resulted in an announcement that a caucus will be held this morning for a final decision.

No names were disclosed officially, but it was said that two candidates had been put up in opposition to Municipal Judge Robert S. Gentzel, who had been considered the favorite for the short term. They were George E. Gorman, first assistant state's attorney, who ran for the same bench in 1923, and Bernard P. Dumas, who was defeated as a candidate for the bench of review in the primary. One is said to be State's Attorney Crowe's selection and the other Mayor Thompson's choice.

"America First" Sidetracked.
While there was no agreement on this vacancy, Chairman Homer E. Galpin did announce that one important decision had been reached. In effect it means that the "America

First" and "Draft Coolidge" platform has been sidetracked again. "We feel," said Galpin, "that a judicial convention is not the proper place for the adoption of a platform for the full county campaign. It would be better for us to wait and see what the national convention does in June. Then we'll be in a position to open the full campaign with the adoption of a platform most in keeping with the situation at that time."

Mayor Thompson was at the council meeting most of the afternoon and did not attend the conference. It is understood that he had acceded to this program of policy just as he did to the noncommittal program of the county convention on April 18.

May Drop Deneen Demand.
The platform question has been considered one of the most important in connection with today's meetings. Deneen leaders have been insisting that any platform adopted must include a ringing declaration for law enforcement against crime. If the Thompson-Crowe majority does not present a platform, it is conjectured that the Deneen people will not attempt to force the issue.

This conclusion was partly the result of the conference calling in Roy O. West, Deneen's chief of staff, to talk about the renomination of Judge Worth E. Caylor, one of those whose terms expire. Mr. West, it was said, was asked whether he wanted Judge Caylor, a lifelong and close friend of his, included on the fusion ticket. On this subject he talked for some time, and Chairman Galpin told him Judge Caylor would be included in the slate.

Senator Deneen left for Washington on an afternoon train and this was considered another hint that no platform fight is expected.

U. S. ATTORNEY CALLS ON CITY TO KICK OUT CRIME

Johnson Lays Crisis to Booze and Politics.

Chicago may rid itself of criminal rule only by breaking the alliance between gangsters, politicians and police, and by the enforcement of all laws, United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson said last night at an address at the Austin Congregational church.

Mr. Johnson urged support for all law-enforcing agencies of the four police proposals:

"First, bootlegging and gambling should not be permitted to remain as accessories for criminals and gunmen who kill by their order. If we are to have an orderly city all law-enforcing agencies, both state and federal, must combine and see to it that these gunmen and criminals are punished.

Assaults "Paid Protection."

"Second, the paid protection of persons engaged in the violation of the prohibition act is not to be tolerated. The system of protection in prohibition presents a definite problem of its own which must be met and destroyed.

"Third, political factions or parties who accept the support of contribution from this privileged element because a part of them, and the community can not continue any longer to tolerate a system so subversive of public morals.

"Fourth, the police belong to the people. They must not become the minions of any political overlord. Freedom of the natural instincts of all men are against the gangsters, who pay kill them. See that the police, state and federal, do their duty. Have them know that no one is immune, and that fearless and relentless pursuit of their duty will bring commendation."

A Chicago Crisis.

"The subject of law enforcement is the outstanding issue," District Attorney Johnson said. "Recently I saw a cartoon, in an eastern paper, of our beautiful city under which there was inscribed the legend, 'City of Ill Fame.' I felt a flush of resentment. This is not deserved, but reading the situation as it is no one can minimize its serious aspects.

"In the last twenty years the name 'Chicago' has become familiar to our people. Not much noticed at first and not properly challenged in its inception, it has been permitted to grow until today there is in Chicago and in other American cities a gorilla type of man—human in form only.

"Properly defined a gunman is one who kills for hire. He has no hatred toward his victim, but he executes the vengeance of another. The gunman is the armed force of organized crime who execute the decrees of the underworld and the criminal classes.

"Rackets" Rising in Cities.

"One organization in this city has raised some sixty-one rackets. 'Racket' is a new word to our vocabulary. It is an unlawful combination of men who hold their members together by threats and fear and extort sums of money for their alleged services and who enforce their decrees by gunmen or henchmen. While the situation in the last few years has become acute in Chicago, the system appears in other American cities.

"Many citizens come to the office of the United States attorney and demand that the government act. This demand can only mean that local, state and city governments are either unwilling or unable to deal with the conditions as they are.

"Privilege assumes many forms, but the most common form is an officeholder or petty official politicians who hold themselves out as able to protect violators of the law and who collected revenue for this service. This system of privilege is the hotbed in which crime sprouts.

"With the growth of disrespect for law and order comes a lack of respect for the courts. Why is crime outstanding in Chicago? If a community has a low standard of public morals and lax law enforcement, these criminals will congregate. Crime has intelligence and crime will seek the points of greatest advantage. As an evidence of this fact it is to be noted that the most notorious characters of the underworld in Chicago are men who have been recruited from the gangs in New York.

"In one year the Chicago police made 20,186 arrests for felonies and misdemeanors, but only 2,626 had records of felonies. In the metropolitan area of Chicago there are approximately 4,000,000 people. Assuming that there are 20,000 criminals in this area that would be one half of 1 percent of the population.

"One gang murder leads to another and has gained for our city an unenviable record in this respect. Even if these gangs confine their murders to rivalries among themselves, which they do not, it is a situation which organized society and the conscience of the community can not tolerate. You can do a great deal by properly performing your duties when called for jury service and voting for honest public officials."

CIRCUIT JUDGES START INQUIRY ON CRIME CHARGES

Act on Request of Two Accused Members.

The full bench of the Circuit court met yesterday and after considering charges of the Chicago crime commission, attacking two members of the court, a committee of three judges was appointed "to consider the matter."

At the same time Judge Denis E. Sullivan, chief clerk of the Superior court, let it be known that the executive committee of that court will meet today to consider the same matter as it is directed against Superior Judge Emmanuel Eller.

Judge Demand Inquiry.

The two circuit judges, Otto H. Kerner and Stanley H. Klarkowski, had demanded that their colleagues conduct an investigation of the crime commission's charges. At the same time both courts had before them a communication from Frank J. Loesch, president of the crime commission, in which he demanded that the three judges be removed from the criminal court bench, and that "men of character, vigor, and outstanding integrity be sent over in their place."

The crime commission's charge against the judges, as voiced by Mr. Loesch, was that Judges Kerner, Klarkowski, and Eller, acting with the state's attorney, and permitted hundreds of criminals to escape with inadequate punishment, or none at all. The course followed by the judges has been to acquiesce in the charging of serious charges against criminals to lighter ones carrying light penalties, Mr. Loesch said.

New Demand Issued.

The crime commission head issued a statement to the newspapers yesterday, sending charges to Chief Justice Joseph E. Stetson, of the Superior court and Chief Justice Victor P. Arnold of the Circuit court. The statement read:

"The three judges, Eller, Klarkowski, and Kerner, who in view of their record of paltering with crime conditions while sitting as judges of the Criminal court, were asked to voluntarily retire, not having done so, the Crime commission calls upon the remaining judges of the Circuit court and of the Superior court to recall those three judges and send over in their place men of character, vigor, and outstanding integrity."

Jurists Debate Situation.

After three hours of discussion, the judges adopted the following motion: "That a committee of three be appointed by the chief justice to consider the matter involved in the request of Judges Kerner and Klarkowski that some action be taken by the judges of this court on the charges made against them by the crime commission through the public press, as well as upon the communication of Frank J. Loesch, president of the crime commission, to the chief justice, and that that committee report back to the judges of this court at an early date and that, when appointed, should endeavor to act jointly with a similar committee if appointed by the Superior court."

The chief justice appointed Judges Thomas Taylor, Harry M. Fisher and Kiekham Scanlan.

New Waukegan Has Own Mystery of the Pineapple

Waukegan police are confronted by a pineapple mystery following the bombing of a frame two flat building at 224 South Utica street early yesterday morning. Seven persons were in the building at the time of the explosion, but escaped injury. George Doyle, owner, told the police he could not imagine any motive, and therefore had no clue to the throwers of the bomb. The damage was estimated at $1,000.

"The three judges, Eller, Klarkowski, and Kerner, who in view of their record of paltering with crime conditions while sitting as judges of the Criminal court, were asked to voluntarily retire, not having done so, the Crime commission calls upon the remaining judges of the Circuit court and of the Superior court to recall those three judges and send over in their place men of character, vigor, and outstanding integrity."

Jurists Debate Situation.

After three hours of discussion, the judges adopted the following motion: "That a committee of three be appointed by the chief justice to consider the matter involved in the request of Judges Kerner and Klarkowski that some action be taken by the judges of this court on the charges made against them by the crime commission through the public press, as well as upon the communication of Frank J. Loesch, president of the crime commission, to the chief justice, and that that committee report back to the judges of this court at an early date and that, when appointed, should endeavor to act jointly with a similar committee if appointed by the Superior court."

At Last We've Found the Perfect Collar—"Ideluxe"

Starched but not Stiff

For more than thirty years we've heard men grumble about collars. "Starched collars may look fine," say some, "but they're too stiff for my tender neck."

And others... "Soft collars are probably more comfortable, but my job requires starch."

Wouldn't it be great, we used to say, if some manufacturer would bring out a collar that pleased everybody?

And now it's happened. The Ideluxe collar is, in our opinion, the perfect collar. We'll tell you why we think so.

It's a starched collar, but it's so light in weight, so flexible in texture, so insignificant in bulk that even the sworn user of soft collars will find it comfortable.

Woven of tightly twisted yarns by a special process, it has twice the tensile strength of ordinary starched collars. In spite of its lightness and pliability, it actually wears longer!

FIVE BOYS GLAD TO ESCAPE CHAIR BY ONE JUROR

He Admits Time in Cell
Shaped His Views.

Five boys, who seemed to be headed for the electric chair, were thankful yesterday when interviewed in their county jail cells that they had Lawrence O'Toole, 1455 West 71st street, as a member of the jury. That jury after twelve hours' deliberation voted for a 25 years penalty for each of the five. That compromise was effected only after O'Toole for hours had refused to recede from his position that 14 years was enough punishment for the murder of a grocer during a robbery.

Judge Harry B. Miller and Assistant State's Attorney Charles Dougherty and Samuel Hoffman started an investigation that may result in contempt of court proceedings. Some of the jurors, including O'Toole, were called into the judge's chambers for questioning.

Drops New Trial Demand.
Attorney John Prystalski, who represented three of the defendants, Stanley Lucas, 18, of 1539 West 17th street; Michael Cios, 22, of 1767 West 17th street, and Roman Zakeminski, 19, of 2335 Winchester avenue, admitted by withdrawing a motion for a new trial during the day that his clients escaped the expected punishment.

Casimir Pietrowski, 17, of 1807 West 17th street, and Harry Zdan, 18, of 1144 West 25d street, will have their motion disposed of Saturday.

O'Toole, when questioned by the judge, yesterday admitted he told his fellow jurors he had spent 5 days in a cell and that he thought 14 years was punishment for any crime. He said, however, he was exaggerating.

that the fact is that he was arrested once, while returning home from a dance and held over night. Other statements he had made about his acquaintance with certain persons probably will be investigated by the judge.

Boy Grateful to O'Toole.

"We sure got a break, anything was better than the electric chair," Cios said in his cell.

"There was only one humane guy on that jury, that was O'Toole."

"We could hear the jury debating, so that when some of them started to argue for the electric chair it sure made us uncomfortable. Of course, the charge is a 'bum rap' as are all them 100 stickups they talk about, but then I am satisfied to beat the chair."

"If all jurors were like O'Toole we would be walking the street now," said little Harry Zdan, the youngest of the group.

"I was just thinking when I got out of the pen I will be an old man with a long beard."

The other youths refused to talk about their narrow escape from the electric chair.

Judge Comments Other Jurors.

Judge Miller had no public comments to make on the verdict, but it became known that he told the eleven jurors who favored at least life sentences for all that they were good citizens, but they should not have given in to the demand of O'Toole. The jurors explained that they thought the compromise was better than a disagreement.

Another member of the Cios family started a sentence yesterday. Tony Cios, 19, was sent to the county jail by Judge Philip J. Finnegan to join his brother, Mike. He was given 9 months and a $25 fine for gun toting. He was arrested on complaint of his father, who charged him with stealing $1,000.

Balesinski's mother scrubs for a living, while his father does odd jobs. Early in 1926 he made his first visit to the juvenile court for breaking into a building and stealing tools. He served in the Parental school. Cios' father is a laborer, his mother being dead. In 1923 he made his debut in the juvenile court and then in the Boys' court, serving two Bridewell terms.

Pietrowski's father is a watchman and his family bears a good reputation. He, however, was a boy gang leader.

NICARAGUA PAYS $20,000,000 FOR REVOLT; 2,000 DIE

Report Says U.S. Marines
Saved Nation.

MANAGUA, May 1.—(AP)—The arrival of the United States Marines early in 1927 saved Nicaragua from general destruction through the burning and sacking of cities and from anarchy of government, according to an advance copy of the annual report for 1927 of Col. Clifford D. Ham, commander general of customs. The constant laying down of their arms by the opposing forces was chiefly the cause of the continuation of good business and commercial conditions during the last year, continued the report.

The collector estimated that the revolution has cost this small country already more than $20,000,000 diverted from government revenues intended for other purposes. These costs are figured at $150,000 used for military expenditures instead of paying salaries due to teachers, $221,000 due to governments of the United States and Salvador for arms and ammunition, $254,000 for voluntary and forced loans by the government from citizens, $95,000 due to New Orleans banks for loans, and more than $17,000,000 for claims filed with the claims commission for property destroyed or commandeered by both governmental and revolutionary forces.

Cannot Pay Half of Claims. This total so far of more than $20,000,000, says the report, is a big sum for little Nicaragua, to divert from public improvements and the country cannot possibly pay even one half of the claims. The claims are for damages up to March 31, 1928, and do not include any damages lately done by the revolutionists in the La Lusa and Pita mining regions.

The largest single claim is close to $1,000,000, that of Charles Butters, American owner of the San Albino gold mine destroyed by Sandino's forces. The revolution is termed the worst in 100 years and the most destructive of life, property and capital. It is estimated that from 1,500 to 2,000 Nicaraguan lives have been lost, a big proportion for the small country. The same proportionate loss of life in the United States would be more than 250,000.

Customs Collections Grew. The report stresses the anomalous fact that despite the revolution the customs collections were the largest in the history of the country. It also was emphasized that the two departments of the government administered by American officials, the customs and the high commission, were the only branches of the government not demoralized by the revolution but continuing to function, if anything, more efficiently than before, despite many difficulties.

Another anomaly shown in the report is that despite the revolution the financial credit of Nicaragua is unimpaired, as evidenced by the advance in price of 10 foreign bonds during the year.

CADILLAC-LA SALLE

90-DEGREE V-TYPE EIGHT

Unrivaled

AMONG FINE CAR ENGINES

WITH its overwhelmingly large fine-car following, Cadillac is able to accomplish results almost literally impossible to any other institution.

There is only one way to give what Cadillac gives and that is by commanding and maintaining a market as great as Cadillac's.

Lesser volume must of necessity mean surrender in some one or a dozen essentials of fine manufacturing—surrender of quality; surrender in size; surrender in the exquisite beauty exemplified in Cadillac and La Salle's Fisher and Fisher-Fleetwood bodies...

—or, more serious than all else, surrender of the high refinement, and efficiency of such a superbly smooth motor as the 90-degree, V-type, 8-cylinder engine which powers both the new Cadillac and La Salle;

—an engine which embodies the superior 8-cylinder principle of mounting the eight cylinders in two blocks of four cylinders, the blocks at a V-shaped angle of 90 degrees, instead of aligning the entire eight cylinders, one after the other in a straight line.

Here are plain facts the public readily observes, seeing Cadillac raising quality and holding down price, observing elsewhere the remorseless law of lesser volume working out in the only way it can work out:

Giving less and less than Cadillac-La Salle; drawing farther and farther away from the Cadillac-La Salle class; sinking into lower markets which shut them out from the last vestige of comparison with Cadillac and La Salle.

With the inevitable result that today Cadillac and La Salle stand practically alone in the highest fine-car field.

New lower La Salle prices, $2350 to $2875. Cadillac prices, $3295 to $3950. Exclusive Fisher and Fisher-Fleetwood custom-built bodies up to $5500. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

Cadillac welcomes an opportunity to prove these statements. A phone call will bring a demonstrator at your convenience.

GEN. CURRIE GETS $500 VERDICT IN WORLD WAR SUIT

Jury Backs Canadian's Charge of Libel.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
COBURG, Ont., May 1. — Twelve jurors today vindicated Sir Arthur Currie, war time commander of the Canadian forces, on charges of slandering troops at Mons for his own glory. By a poll of 11 to 1 the jury this afternoon found both W. T. H. Preston and S. W. H. Wilson, guilty of libel and awarded Gen. Currie $500 damages.

Currie said the decision was satisfactory. He wanted vindication—not money. He sued for $50,000. The $500 verdict carries with it the costs of the court. When the bill is totaled the libelous articles will cost the author and publisher more than $25,000.

The jury took nearly four hours to reach its decision after a two hour charge by Justice Rice. The judge told the jurors the evidence showed only one man was killed in the Canadian corps on Armistice day and he was not at Mons.

Students of McGill university in Montreal, of which Sir Arthur is president, organized a demonstration when the news of the verdict came from Coburg. Maj. Gen. J. H. Macbrien, former chief of staff of the Canadian forces, said the verdict was a victory not only for Sir Arthur, but every officer of the Canadian corps.

MISSING IOWA GIRL IDENTIFIED AS LAKE VICTIM

The body of a woman, taken from the lake a week ago, was identified yesterday at the county morgue as that of Miss Bess Millner, 25, who left her room at the Allerton house on March 15 after writing a suicide note. Miss Millner was a stenographer in the local office of the United States department of commerce. Her relatives at Parley, Ia., requested the police a month ago to search for her. Dr. E. T. Bennett, dentist on the Northwestern university medical school faculty, compared the teeth of the woman taken from the lake with X rays of Miss Millner's and announced that they apparently were identical.

GIRLS' EVIDENCE JAILS 2 OWNERS OF DANCE HALL

A court decision that was hailed by juvenile workers as establishing a precedent for prosecuting the proprietors of "taxi" dance halls, was made yesterday by Judge Samuel Truitt when he sentenced two defendants to four months in jail for contributing to the delinquency of minors. The two, Albert Sims, and Albert Martinez, were arrested last Saturday night as the owners in a police raid on the Hall of All Nations, 9007 Mackinaw avenue. Four young girls, about 14 years of age, testified to indecent conditions and intoxication that prevailed at the hall.

500 to Get Names for City Directory of 1928

More than 500 canvassers soon will start out gathering information for the first city directory since 1923. It was announced yesterday by H. L. Polk and company, compilers of the new volume. A large increase in population during the five years necessitates a much thicker directory than the old one of 1,380 pages. Those who work in the city, but live in the suburbs will be listed, with their jobs, it was asserted. The issue is expected to be ready for delivery next October.

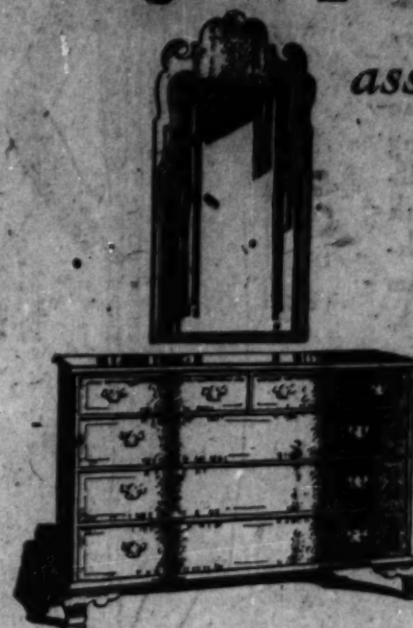

ACQUITTED OF ASSAULT CHARGE. Louis Zimmerman, 25, of 1244 West Roosevelt road, was freed of an assault charge in the Des Plaines street court yesterday. He was accused of striking two men, but Judge Schuman held that he had acted in self-defense.

JACQUELINE LOGAN, Pathé Director DIRECTORS PICK GIRL'S CHIEF ALLURE

Screen tests reveal smooth skin most important

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Dark or fair, plump or slender, whatever her style, there is one thing every girl must possess if she hopes to become a star. This all important requisite is smooth skin. "The close-up is the final test of a screen star's popularity—and surest proof of her beauty," declares James Cruze, Pathé DeMille director. For this reason directors consider smooth skin—"studio skin"—more necessary for success than gorgeous eyes or a fascinating mouth. Nine out of ten movie stars in Hollywood are using Lux Toilet Soap for their precious skin. This new soap is made by the celebrated method perfected by the French for the manufacture of their world famous toilet soaps. Jacqueline Logan, Pathé DeMille star, says "The satin smoothness of my skin after Lux Toilet Soap is delightful." All the big film studios have selected it as the official soap for their dressing rooms—an interesting comment on the value which they place on smooth skin. Lux Toilet Soap is manufactured by Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

An Idea from the Moon

China—land of plum blossoms and lotus flower—weaves its myths into allegorical designs. The result is a Chinese Rug, rich in fancy, striking in color.

Once upon a time a purple dragon swallowed the golden moon—that is the way they have of explaining an eclipse! And one of the most valuable rugs in the world—originally made for the imperial palace and sold to the House of Morgan for a prince's ransom—has a center portraying a dragon swallowing the moon.

Their designs differ wholly from those of other rug-weaving peoples—peonies, dwarf trees, hanging lanterns, apples, pears and animals to guard the hours of the Chinese day and night. Rich blues, yellows and greens are dominant shades.

"Tread lightly for you tread on dreams," say these soft, luxurious creations from a land of Oriental mystery. "Transform your home with our matchless beauty and enduring worth" they also say, to the discerning buyer who views this extensive assortment.

3,600 APPLAUD BREMEN HEROES AT N. Y. BANQUET

Coolidge Will Receive the Airmen Today.

New York, May 1.—(Special.)—The three men who flew the Atlantic from east to west alone and who in the last few days have not been able to be alone even in their own bedrooms, found themselves tonight confronting 3,600 men jammed into a mighty small space, all demanding speeches.

It was the city's dinner of celebration to Baron Gunther von Huenfeld, Capt. Herman Koehl, and Maj. James C. Fitzmaurice in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore.

Honor Floyd Bennett.

There was a moment of solemnity at the beginning of the speeches. Mayor Walker rose, his face grave.

He held up his hand for silence and asked that every one rise in tribute to Floyd Bennett, the aviator who gave his life to help his fellow flyers. There was a hush for several moments as the diners stood with bowed heads. Not far from the three trans-Atlantic flyers was Bert Balchen, who flew with Bennett on his mission and who himself was in bed for two days at Murray Bay. He bent his head and twisted his napkin in his hands as he stood. Bennett had been Balchen's closest friend in this country.

Meet Coolidge Today.

The banquet was the climax of a busy day for the flyers. At the end of which they were to be received by President Coolidge.

Capt. Koehl arose at 5 a. m. and

ASKS DIPLOMATS TO HELP CHICAGO IN GREETING SEA FLYERS

Resolutions inviting the highest representatives of the German and Irish governments in the United States to be guests of Chicago at the celebration in honor of the Bremen crew were adopted yesterday by the city council.

The invitations will be sent to Friedrich von Prittwitz and Gaffron, German ambassador, and Timothy A. Smiddy, ambassador of the Irish Free State. They will be asked to speak at the banquet for the flyers at the Hotel Stevens.

Ald. A. J. Horan (27th), chairman of an aldermanic committee appointed to carry official invitations to the Bremen crew, announced yesterday it is practically certain they will arrive at the municipal airport next Monday evening. The celebration, arranged by the mayor's citizens' committee, probably will be held Tuesday, he said.

The aldermanic committee missed the flyers at Washington, but delivered its invitations at the German and Irish embassies. Ald. Horan reported.

went to Curtis field, L. I. to test the repaired propeller of the Bremen on the Junkers F-13. He took three trial spins, and then returned to the Ritz hotel for breakfast with the Bremen group. Baron Huenfeld received a surprise birthday cake. It being his 16th anniversary.

After breakfast Mrs. Fitzmaurice and 7-year-old Patricia and Mrs. Koehl went shopping, leaving the flyers free for a trip to Wall street and environs. At Broadway and Wall streets the flyers placed wreaths upon the statue of Washington while thousands of workers in the financial district cheered.

Speedy Trial for Killing Child in Home Burglary

Speedy trial was asked and granted yesterday for three young men on a charge of killing Arthur Nelson, 7, and seriously wounding his father in the burglary of the Nelson home, 7347 Vernon avenue. Acting Chief Justice Emanuel Miller ordered the defendants, Henry Kaczynski, 20, and Paul Gessman, 22, and Roger Bunney, 17, to trial on May 8. Assistant State's Attorneys Harold Levy and Emmet Byrne announced they would ask for the death penalty.

NO SPEEDY ROAD TO RICHES IN AIR, AVIATORS AGREE

Veterans Give Advice for Young Aspirants.

An investigation by The Tribune has revealed that more than 3,000 young men, attracted by the lure of possible riches to be gained in commercial flying, are receiving instruction in aviation schools in the Chicago district. This is the fourth article telling the experience of the reporter who visited each of these schools.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

Some aviation schools in the Chicago district promise only to teach young men to operate an airplane and not to qualify them for high paying jobs as commercial aviators. This Tribune investigation revealed. There is no speedy way to riches in the flying business, these schools agreed. Lieut. Clarence J. Rodman, of the American Institute of Aeronautics, which has headquarters in the Union Trust building, told a reporter that no novice could hope to obtain a commercial pilot's license without paying at least $1,500 for his instruction and taking at least a year for a course.

Advices Student to Buy Plane.

This company is not in the business of enrolling students at present, Lieut. Rodman's opinion might be taken as unbiased. He estimated that a good course in flying would cost more than $1,000 and that this would accustom the student to simple maneuvers in a plane. To make the 50 hours of solo flying required for an industrial pilot's license, would cost $20 an hour, he declared. His advice to the student was to buy a plane for $1,500 or more rather than pay such high hourly rates.

Mag. P. G. Kemp, former chairman of the aero commission, evinced much interest in The Tribune's inquiry and expressed the opinion that aviation would be benefited in Chicago because of the investigation.

No Short Out, He Says.

There is no doubt that many schools in the Chicago area were scrupulous in enlisting students under promise of making them experienced pilots, he said. "Young men should be made to realize that, although there are immense possibilities in aviation, there is no quick method of learning to be a pilot."

J. J. Keller, who was taught flying at the Aero Club field, 534 street and Chicago avenue, for ten years, charges $225 for ten hours of instruction in the air, he told the investigator.

"After you get 10 hours in the air, you know how to fly fairly well," he said. "You can take off and land. But you'll never be a good flyer until you know how to operate the controls automatically. It is also a question of the student's ability as well as a matter of hours in the air."

Tells Employment Changes.

Mr. Keller was asked what the chances for employment in aviation were for a student who had obtained a limited commercial pilot's license showing 50 hours of solo flying.

"It is necessary to work into a good position," he declared. "The usual procedure is to work around with various people until you inspire confidence in them. Even a transport pilot's license, requiring 300 hours of solo flying, doesn't guarantee you a paying job."

Keller has more than 100 students, he said, but some of them take lessons only at lengthy intervals.

The only other method of becoming a commercial aviator open to the young man is the government's flying school. The authorized number of flying cadets under the amended National Defense act is not to exceed 1,500, and the positions are much sought after. Flying cadets are paid $75 a month while learning to fly. Candidates must be unmarried and between the ages of 18 and 27 years, and are required to pass a severe physical and mental examination. In contrast with the three and four

Millions of Families Depend on Dr. Caldwell's Prescription

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not so great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management, this prescription has proven its worth, and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who need it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know months' course offered by flying schools, the government course lasts three years. Blank applications for appointment as a flying cadet may be obtained from the office of the Chief of Air Corps or Adjutant General, Washington, D. C. Examinations are held twice a year.

CITY EMPLOYEE FALLS DEAD.

Robert J. Buttle, 35 years old, 4948 North Sacramento avenue, an electrical engineer employed by the city, fell dead, supposedly of heart disease, last night in his home.

INDIANA VOTERS GIVEN CHANCE TO RESTORE LIBERTY

Klan Yoke and Dry League
Primary Issue.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—(Special.)—In Monument circle, where the heart of Indianapolis, there is a stone figure of a slave lifting broken shackles and eyes of hope to the beautiful face of Liberty.

This may be the symbol of what is to happen in Indiana next Tuesday, when the people at the polls have an opportunity to shake off the political shackles which have been fastened upon them for years by the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-Saloon league leadership.

There are signs in this spring sky of an awakening, a mass protest such as that which crushed the "Illinois" political machine on April 10. The great stone monument, from which the living water now gushes, may speak at last. George Rogers Clark is stirring with uplifting arm and drawn sword. Behind are the dim hosts of all the wars since the revolution.

Freedom and Pride at Stake.
Now the Hoosiers face the fight for political freedom. Their pride is touched, for Indiana, no less than her sister, Illinois, has been forced to hide her head in shame. The city hall has been cleaned, the Klan driven out. A strong new council is sitting and soon the days of city manager will come, and this problem of graft and incompetence will be settled.

The chance to cleanse the state house comes next Tuesday, and also an opportunity to send to the United States senate a man who will not be forced to sit in humiliation before the "birds of a feather" class of Democrats, as Senator Arthur Robinson was. The big issue in the state, outside the presidential struggle, which will leave things about as they are locally, is whether the Klan and Supp. E. S. Shumaker of the Anti-Saloon league can defeat Arthur J. Gilliom for the nomination for United States senator. Also there is the struggle Tom Adams, the fighting editor of Old Vindicator, is making for the nomination for governor. There are many in the field, but the drama of the whole campaign centers around these two figures.

There are two events in the current political pattern which are significant and hopeful to those who are leading the way out of darkness, bigotry, and corruption.
Blacklist Put to a Test.
One is the effort of Attorney General Gilliom to punish Dr. Shumaker under the corrupt practices act for heading Gilliom as a "wet" in the Anti-Saloon league paper, the American Issue. This is the first time that the famous "blacklist" under which Dr. Shumaker has terrorized candidates for years has ever been called into question. It is in line with Gilliom's effort to put the ex-minister in jail for contempt of the state Supreme court, a thing which hardly could be conceived a few years ago. The second hopeful event is the argument made yesterday before the Supreme court against D. C. Stephenson, who seeks release from the state prison, where he is serving a life sentence for murder. Attorneys familiar with the situation declare that Stephenson has no chance to win this case.

It is his last effort. Four years ago, at the height of his power in this state, Stephenson dreamed of putting Gov. Ed Jackson in the 1918 presidential race. Had he not been caught in the escape with Madge Oberholser, which landed him in prison, Stephenson himself in all probability would now be sitting in the United States senate instead of Robinson.

So far has Indiana gone at least. It challenges the tyrannical Shumaker and puts at Michigan City, Gov. Jackson has been so weakened politically by his own troubles that he is not even a candidate for re-nomination.

Issue Seems Clear Cut.
It all seems to present a clear cut issue. The Republican situation in the campaign over Governor Jackson is complicated by the entrance of John J. Carter, a high class lawyer, who has not drawn to himself so much organization as Gilliom has done, but on the whole it is Gilliom against Robinson.

The junior senator has the support of the Klan and is marked as a "dry" organization in this county has slated Robinson against Gilliom and Frederick Schortemeier, secretary of state, against Adams and the field.

Now the Democrats are riding easily and will have strong candidates and a lot to say in November.

Shumaker has always worked hand-in glove with the Klan," said Ralph Kane, Gilliom's manager. "He is grafting on the good people of this state. He is collecting money from the churches and makes no account of the churches and the bigotry that exists at other parts of the constitution and at the process of law in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. I am for saving prohibition from its fanatical and radical but unthinking friends, especially from the liquor law violations than any other firm in Indianapolis."

Senator Dictated from Jail.
Mr. Gilliom has challenged Senator Robinson to declare whether or not he is for the Klan. It is charged that Robinson's appointment as senator by Gov. Jackson was made at the dictation of Stephenson while the latter was in the Nibleville jail. Jackson, it is said, had decided to appoint Frank Ball, Muncie millwright, and was forced to change his mind.

Senator Robinson, asked about all this, has been silent and Jackson has been silent.
When Stephenson was first arrested in the Oberholser case, the first two persons he telephoned to were Senator Robinson and Frank Marshall, according to Mr. Kane, who was in the prosecution.

Today Klan influences are seen at work for Robinson in the latest edition of the Fellowship Forum.

Gilliom is not fighting the Anti-Saloon league as such, only its leadership and methods. "I never have been a wet," he says. "I am no more a wet than were the good people of Ohio who overwhelmingly defeated the Marshall bill last November after they were dishonestly misled were by the fanatics of Ohio. I am opposed to the fanatics and the bigotry that exists at other parts of the constitution and at the process of law in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. I am for saving prohibition from its fanatical and radical but unthinking friends, especially from the liquor law violations than any other firm in Indianapolis."

NEWS MAGNATES OF BRITAIN FIGHT FOR MORE PAPERS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, May 1.—The first round in a fight between the two largest newspaper combines in Great Britain to obtain control of the provincial newspapers opened today. The protagonists are Lord Rothermere and the Berry brothers. The latter, headed by Sir William Berry, recently bought the London Daily Telegraph from Lord Burnham, and also owns more than twenty provincial papers.

The Berrys are now negotiating for a group of three Aberdeen newspapers, offering slightly more than $3,500,000. Lord Rothermere stepped in today, raising the bid to $4,000,000 in behalf of the Northcliffe newspapers syndicate.

The Berrys offer provided for part payment in debenture stock. Lord Rothermere proposes full payment in cash.

SUAVE SINCLAIR BAITS WALSH AT TEAPOT HEARING

Has Returned $757,000
Continental Profits.

claim. "I thought you referred to oil land leases or oil lands. I did not consider when I bought an interest in a company that I was buying land."

"When you were asked that question in 1923, you had as a matter of fact acquired a one-third interest in the Tres Bitos company?" persisted Senator Walsh.

"Yes," asserted Sinclair.

"Do you think that a fair and frank answer?" asked the senator.

"At the time I made it I thought it was," asserted Sinclair.

Lost Track of Bonds.

Sinclair testified that as he received the bonds from Blackmer, they were put with other securities in the private vault and not ear marked as "Continental bonds" or otherwise identified.

A penciled memorandum which he asserted was destroyed when the bonds were turned over to the Sinclair-Crude Oil Purchasing company last week was his only record of the transaction with Blackmer, who neither asked nor was given a receipt.

He has no way of knowing, beyond the reports of the committee's investigators, just where the Continental bonds went, he said.

He admitted advancing $250,000 in Liberty bonds to Will Hays, former chairman of the Republican national committee, to help wipe out the committee's 1920 campaign deficit and also admitted that on a prior occasion he had loaned Hays $100,000 when he was hard pressed as a result of market speculations.

Vague on Coupons.

Senator Walsh turned again to the Continental bonds themselves.

"How many of the coupons did you cash from the Continental bonds you received?" he asked Sinclair.

"I did not receive any bonds from the Continental company. I have told you," asserted Sinclair. "I believed they were coming from Blackmer and I took them for the benefit of my companies. I could not tell how many coupons were cashed."

Q.—Did you cash all of them? A.—Could not tell that.

Q.—Did you clip them regularly as they fell due? A.—I don't think so.

Q.—What makes you think so? A.—Because I don't clip coupons regularly.

Q.—What reason did you have for not clipping? A.—Blackmer asked me not to.

Q.—What reason did Blackmer give for not wanting coupons cashed? A.—He did not give any and I didn't ask any.

Q.—What reason did you know of? A.—I didn't know any.

Q.—What reason do you know now? A.—I don't know any now.

Q.—So far as you were concerned, then, it might have been published to the world? A.—It would have been all right with me.

Q.—But you did not even tell your board of directors for five or six years until last week? A.—No.

Reverting to his advance of $250,000 to Hays, Sinclair denied that any indorsement had been offered him.

Admits "Foolish" Gift.

"Now, Mr. Hays when he was testifying here," said Senator Walsh, "could not recall one donation even approximating yours, and Mr. Mellon, reputedly the third richest man in the world, gave only $50,000. How did it come that you gave three times as much as Mr. Mellon?"

"Mr. Mellon may have been more sensible than I was," answered Sinclair. "Apparently he was. I wish I had not given it."

After the noon recess Senator Nye took up the questioning and apparently sought to confirm the rumors that Sinclair had been a generous contributor to the Democratic party, as well, and had given Continental bonds or substantial contributions to the New York state Democratic organization in 1923-24.

Q.—You were quite interested in the election in New York in 1923 and 1924? A.—Refresh my memory by telling me who was involved.

Q.—The opposing candidates were Theodore Roosevelt Jr. and Gov. Smith; did you make a contribution in that campaign? A.—My recollection is that I did not. If I did it was quite small and I am quite certain that I did not make any contribution to the little column—I mean Col. Theodore Roosevelt, and I cannot recall having made any to Gov. Smith.

Sinclair evaded direct answers to many of Senator Nye's questions, responding when asked if he did not think it was "unusual" that his share came in the form of Liberty bonds that "if I did, I did not discuss it."

Asked if he would agree that whole transaction was highly unusual, he answered, "Senator, if you want me to agree with you I will."

"Why did you wait until a few days ago to turn these bonds over to your company?" asked Senator Nye.

"I had a number of reasons satisfactory to me," answered Sinclair.

Later he answered a similar question by asserting he followed the lead taken by Stewart. If Stewart had not turned his over to the Crude Oil Purchasing company, Sinclair continued, "I would have given the $757,000 to the Consolidated company."

Q.—Your board has only your word for the amount of the bonds you received and the date they were received. Yes.

Q.—It is usual for managers to bring thousands of dollars to your office in securities and get no receipt? A.—It isn't usual.

Q.—And it would be considered utterly foolish in a business man to conduct his business that way? A.—I can't answer for other business men.

Q.—Do you desire the committee to understand that actually happened?

A.—I have so testified.

Q.—And no receipt was given? A.—I have so testified.

Q.—You were looking after the interests of your company? A.—Yes.

Senator Bratton attempted to discover why Sinclair had destroyed his record of the bond transaction with Blackmer when the securities were turned over to the crude oil purchasing company last week.

The memorandum you speak of was destroyed after you received the committee's subpoena? asked Senator Bratton.

"I think so," answered Sinclair.

"I just did it."

"Knowing you were coming before the committee to testify you destroyed the only writing in existence to explain the affair?"

"I have so testified."

"Why did you do that?" asked Senator Bratton.

"Senator, I did it," asserted Sinclair. "I had no particular reason. The matter was closed so far as I and my company was concerned."

Leaves Hair Twice as Beautiful

In a few minutes time, your hair is soft, silky and radiant with life, gloss and lustre.

To have beautiful, fresh looking hair is simply a matter of proper shampooing.

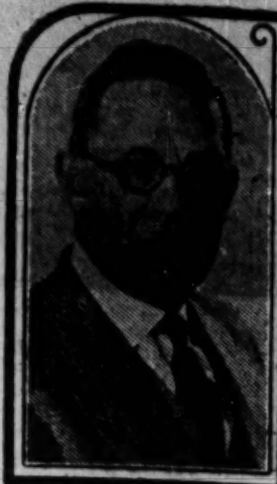

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women everywhere now use Mulford's Coconut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure it.

Two or three teaspoonsful of Mulford's is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulford's Coconut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.
A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

The purpose of the Frank R. Mason Company is to conduct a high class Real Estate Business, profitable to our Clients, our Sales People and our Company, with a Square Deal for all.

The Success of the Frank R. Mason Company is assured.

The first and most important principle of Success is a Square Deal and Mr. Mason's reputation for Square Dealing in the Chicago Real Estate Field is already solidly and permanently established.

Mr. Mason's years of experience in marketing North Shore properties makes him a pioneer in that district and consequently one of the best posted men in Chicago on North Shore values.

Likewise, our Sales Organization is not new in the Real Estate Business or on the North Shore, having marketed several million dollars' worth of high class North Shore properties in the last three and one-half years.

Our properties will be marketed at prices far below anything on the North Shore in our district, returning quick and substantial profits.

We invite your inspection of our General Offices and Properties.

POLICIES

To specialize in close-in North Shore properties.

To market properties in the path of development.

To market properties at a fair legitimate price for today's values.

To market properties that return substantial profits in the shortest possible time.

To market properties on the "Savings-Plan" to enable the average man and woman to share in the millions being made in Metropolitan Chicago Real Estate.

To market properties where the improvements are in or immediately available.

To market properties easily accessible to good transportation, Boulevards and Highways.

To market properties highly restricted and properly zoned.

To market properties, at all times, with clean, honest sales methods.

To market properties under trust agreements with title guaranteed by Chicago Title and Trust Company.

Close inspection of our Company, Offices, Sales Organization and Properties will convince the most skeptical that these policies are being lived up to.

PROPERTIES

To be able to offer, close in, North Shore properties, qualifying to our rigid policies is a privilege and we are most fortunate to be in a position to open two such properties at this time.

1. HILL CREST MANOR—is located at the corner of Ridge Road and Simpson Street. Hill Crest Manor due to its strategic location is one of the outstanding developments on the North Shore today. Ridge Road is the only diagonal Highway connecting the north-west of Chicago with the North Shore, and Simpson Street has been chosen as State Route 58 from Evanston to Elgin and is now under construction to be finished in 1928.

2. LINCOLNWOOD MANOR—is located one block east of Crawford Avenue and one block south of Simpson Street, the new Evanston to Elgin Highway. Crawford Avenue and Simpson Street are full section lines and are destined to become two of the greatest Highways in Chicago and Cook County.

All of these properties have improvements available at once. Highly Restricted, zoned for business and apartment frontage. They are in the path of a mighty development, located within a few blocks of the beautiful built up Lincolnwood Section of Evanston with High Speed transportation to both east and west.

Business Lots $2,750.00 up

Apartment Lots $1,045.00 up

PROFITS

The success of the Frank R. Mason Company depends wholly on our ability to make our clients money on their investments, and in keeping with our purpose and policies we are offering properties now, and will continue to offer properties in the future, that will return substantial profits in the shortest possible time.

Our prices are fair and extremely low when compared with others in our district, and we invite investigation and comparison, realizing that we have no competitors in our field.

FEES ON VILLAGE IMPROVEMENTS ENRICH LAWYERS

Political Favoritism Is Charged and Denied.

Veteran Chicago lawyers who for years have been struggling along with overworking Uncle Sam's income tax experts have discovered that they overlooked a gold mine under their noses—employment as specialists in the local improvement field for the smaller villages and other local municipalities of Cook county.

Apparently there are a large number of these communities going ahead with extensive sewer work, paving and similar improvements that are costly but not sufficient in quantity to warrant the permanent hiring of a trained staff. Therefore they accept the offer of men with office forces equipped to expedite court proceedings, spread special assessments and perform the other technical tasks required.

And for this kind of service the fees run high. An average charge is 5 per cent. Therefore for handling a $100,000 paving matter the specialists receive $5,000. For a $500,000 sewer they get $25,000. With a string of villages as clients, incomes run high.

Political Influence Denied.
Attention was called to the possibilities of the situation during the last week by rumors that one of the law associations engaged in this business was the beneficiary of political influence to the detriment of its competitors. The charges were emphatically denied, with counter assertions that they were due to the bitterness of competition.

The lawyers mentioned in this connection, comparatively newcomers in the activity, formed an association something more than a year ago. Two are former assistants in the state's attorney's office, Joseph P. Savage and Thomas R. Marshall, and third, Otto Weisgorecki, had been in the field for some time.

Accurate figures of the amounts paid by various clients were unobtainable, but one of the statements made in the controversy was that Mr. Savage, who entered the county prosecutor's office on a salary of $2,200 six years ago and was receiving $10,800 when he left there fifteen months ago, had income of $60,000 during the last year.

Forest Preserve Attorney.
This included $10,000 as attorney for the Cook county forest preserve, and about the same amount from a per diem of $100 for advising the city council committee on river straightening. It also was estimated that Attorney Marshall's income was increased substantially by fees as special counsel for the council committee on local transportation and for the sanitary district.

The villages represented by these lawyers include the following: Calumet Park, Morton Grove, Dolton, Palos Park, East Hazelcrest, Phoenix, Evergreen Park, Poser, Markham, Robbins, Matteson, Specialville, Midlothian, and Teasdale.

It is reported that the prosperity of many of these towns is due to their popularity among thirty tourists. Two drainage districts, the Lincoln highway district, and the Indian boundary district also have named the Savage group as their attorneys.

Contract Charges Fly.
In connection with improvements there also necessarily are contracts, and here, too, the charges have been flying. In this instance they are directed at an engineering firm that has unusual connections with state and county road departments. Incidental

SOUTH PARK BOARD REDUCES BOND ISSUE TOTAL BY $5,500,000

Reduction of $5,500,000 in the proposed bond issue of $21,000,000 for park improvements to be submitted at the June judicial election was made yesterday at a special meeting of the south park commissioners. The reduction was made in that part of the bond issue to be devoted to lake front extension. The amount previously set for that purpose was $13,000,000.

The remainder of the bond issue consists of $3,000,000 for the completion of Soldiers' Field and $5,000,000 for small parks development. The lake front extension project, consisting chiefly in construction of a series of island parks, is in harmony with plans for the 1933 world's fair.

"The bond issue for the completion of Soldiers' Field is necessary to make it useful during twelve months of the year," said Edward J. Kelly, president of the commission. "These funds will provide exposition halls with 1,800 display booths, and will bring to Chicago a number of expositions."

The commission voted to name one of the new community parks now under construction between 37th street and 39th place from Vernon avenue to Rhodes avenue, after the late Congressman Martin B. Madden.

ly, nine of the clients listed for the Savage group retain these engineers. The firm name Barker, Flavin, Sheets and Wallace. It includes Bertrand Barker, assistant county highway engineer; Emmett Flavin, attorney for the forest preserve district; Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer for the state, and Robert Wallace, who devotes most of his time to the work of the firm. It is said to receive compensation corresponding to that paid the lawyers, 5 per cent of the cost of the job.

Attorney Savage denied emphatically that the engineering group had any connection with his law firm, whose operations, he insisted, are clean, honest, open and above board.

Competition Is Strong.
"Every item of our business has been honorably obtained and every fee was paid for services fully and capably performed."

Competition for the business of the various villages is keen. Right now there is an opening in the village of Niles and some of the insinuations concerning methods used by the competitors included the fact that Chief Devereaux of the county highway police and two of his men were on hand just prior to a meeting of the village board last Thursday. That there was any significance in their presence has been emphatically denied.

BOMB DAMAGES ROAD MACHINERY IN LABOR FIGHT

Renewal of bomb warfare against nonunion contractors on state highway construction work was seen in the wrecking of road machinery by dynamite early yesterday just east of Villa Park on North Avenue road. Machinery operated by the Ferguson Construction company of Rockford was damaged by the blast, and work on the new bridge across Salt creek will probably be delayed. The Salt creek bridge is part of the contract let by the state for a 40 foot pavement on the new bridge road from Elmhurst to Villa Park.

Last night a Donnegan company, which has a contract for paving Roosevelt field, sustained considerable damage from bombs exploded at night at machinery parks. The incidents were cited later in the county board as a reason for rejecting paving bids made by contractors employing nonunion labor.

The Donnegan company, however, was able to complete the paving provided for in its contract.

GANG SHOOTINGS LAID TO FEAR OF MURDER EXPOSE

Roadhouse Owner, Called Target, Escapes.

Two shooting frays, one on the far south side and the other near Dyer, Ind., which resulted in the killing of one man and the wounding of another, were attributed yesterday to attempts on the part of Chicago Heights gangsters to assassinate Jack White, owner of a roadhouse in the village of Dolton. The reason for their determination, it was said, lay in the fear that he might disclose that the same gang had committed another murder months ago.

Safe, He Phones Parents.
White apparently escaped injury, although he was in an automobile that was fired on at 118th and La Salle streets. He fled on foot as his companion, George Propper, of Dolton, was wounded. Later he called his home and informed his parents that he was safe. The police after a long search were unable to find him.

Propper told the police that as White saw an automobile approaching him, he leaped out with the remark that "it looked like a bad day." Immediately afterward Propper was shot as he sat in the front seat of the car. He drove on, however, and left it in doubt whether his companion had hidden in the shadows and later escaped, or whether he had been pursued on foot and killed.

One Slain; Pal Injured.
In the Dyer shooting Daniel Green, 35 years old, a Chicago Heights bootlegger, was killed and his companion, Kenneth McCullough, 32, was severely injured when their alcohol laden automobile turned over in a ditch. This shooting was attributed to mistaken identity. Green drove a car similar to White's and it is held that the same men who were trying to get White in Chicago shot Green.

McCullough told the story in a Chicago Heights hospital.

"We were hauling a load of alcohol," he said. "In front of us was a smaller

WESTERN AVE.'S PAVING RUSHED BY NEW METHOD

The first 1,000 linear feet of the 20 foot wide concrete paving on the east half of Western avenue, between 135th and 147th streets, was opened to traffic yesterday, twelve days from the time the contractors began tearing up the street for that construction work. Concrete for the south end of this pavement was poured on April 26, and Maj. George A. Quinlan, county superintendent of highways, in opening this stretch upset a tradition that the slab should "age" for at least twenty-one days. The previous result has been long waits for highways.

Quick curing effects in this case were obtained by using increased amounts of cement in the concrete mixture.

Contractors assured the county that the 135th to 147th street section 20 feet wide all would be poured by May 11 or 12. The street will be forty feet wide, but the strip on its east side is being laid first, and while that is in use the other 20 foot strip will be laid.

Son Won't Be Milliner, Father Found Dead; Gas

Louis A. Cone, 42, of 6973 Sheridan road, a member of the millinery firm of Minkus & Cone, was found dead yesterday in his office at 56 East Randolph street. A gas jet was open in the room and apparently the fumes had caused his death. Morris Minkus, his partner, said Cone had been despondent over the refusal of his son, Melvin, to enter the firm and because of unsatisfactory conditions in the business.

Green and McCullough formerly were bootleggers in New Albany, Ind., near Louisville, Ky.

SHUMAKER GIVES HIMSELF UP AND IS FREE ON BOND

Dry Leader Surrenders at South Bend.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—(Special.)—The Rev. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, today surrendered himself to Michael Hunley, sheriff of St. Joseph county, to be arraigned in South Bend on a charge of violating the corrupt practices act. The charge was made in an affidavit by Arthur Gilliom, state's attorney general and candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator in next Tuesday's primary.

Shumaker, accompanied by the league attorney, James Bingham, gave bond of $1,000 and was released, pending arraignment. Meanwhile a warrant for his arrest was brought to Indianapolis and delivered to Omer Hawkins, county sheriff, who searched this city for several hours for him.

Gilliom Plans for Early Trial. Shumaker will enter his plea Friday, it tentatively was agreed tonight. Attorneys are expected to agree on the date of a trial at that time.

Shumaker tonight decided to employ Harry Taylor, former prosecuting attorney at South Bend, as counsel. Mr. Gilliom said tonight that he would cancel his other campaign speeches to prosecute Shumaker if the dry leader would agree to go on trial in South Bend immediately on the charge of violating the corrupt practices act. Shumaker asserts that Gilliom, in the pending prosecution, is repeating his actions of a year ago, when he cited the dry leader for contempt of the state Supreme court and procured his sentence as a result of articles published in the American issue.

Shumaker believes the attorney general's latest move will only serve to increase the faith of the church people in him (Shumaker) and to make additional friends for him.

Others Assail Dry Leader. Protests are now appearing from all sides besides the political leaders at the dry league's campaign "blacklist." "If you still can sleep with a clear conscience I am afraid even Satan will bar you," declared Baxter Plew, undersheriff of Sullivan county, and secretary of the Indiana Sheriffs' association, in an open letter to Shumaker today.

Plew took Shumaker to task for listing Luther Keene, candidate for re-nomination for Sullivan county sheriff, as "wet" and for denouncing Plew from the pulpit of the Shelby (Ind.) Methodist church.

"I do not understand how you can expect to bring any one into the faith or hold them when you voice and sanction such falsehoods. In some sections I know you are hurting the cause which you claim to espouse," Plew's letter to Shumaker said.

At Kokomo, Ind., today O. C. Phillips, attorney and candidate for the Republican nomination for state representative, said he would file an affidavit against Shumaker, charging violation of the corrupt practices act.

WILL FRANCE PAY WARDEBT? NEVER! "TIGER" GROWLS

Clemenceau Writes New Blast at U. S.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) PARIS, May 1.—The French Tiger, Georges Clemenceau, again is growling over the war debts of the nation. The weekly journal, Candida, tomorrow will print an interview, the authenticity for which it vouches, with M. Clemenceau. The war time premier is quoted as saying "we will never pay that debt because it is impossible to pay."

Candida's representative says he tracked the Tiger to his lair in a fisherman's cottage on the Vendee coast, and armed with introductions from the former premier's friends, induced him to talk.

"Monsieur le president, have you not intended to write a second letter to America on the subject of the war debt?" the representative of the paper is said to have asked.

"Yes, the fact is I have a second letter ready to send, but numerous friends in America tell me, 'this is not the moment. You would have no effect on the American people.' I will wait," M. Clemenceau said.

"When I wrote the first letter I feared to estrange my friends over there. But not at all. They understood. All my friends over there and many others are against payment. They would like to annul the French debt."

Assails French Government. "If only the French government was like them and understood. We will never pay that debt, because it is impossible to pay! But far from it. Why, if I had been twenty-four hours later with my first letter, Premier Raymond Poincare would have signed—And now what are they trying to do—abolish the Dawes plan, never take another penny from Germany, and reserve everything for the United States. It is incredible."

"But what can you expect when you have a government filled with men without courage?" he barked, bringing his cane down on the table. "But your second letter, monsieur le president," the reporter pursued.

"I have things to say that are hard: that will please nobody," he answered. "I will put the governments of both countries on the flat of their backs."

Raising her child on common sense

HERE'S a baby that is being brought up in the way he should go, on a plain, sensible kind of rule. His mother learned it from her own experience before he was born. "Just keep your system in good working order," her doctor told her, "and you'll never have anything to worry about."

So, of course, when the baby came she made up her mind to follow that same plan with him. The doctor gave his hearty approval. "Go ahead and use Nujol," he said. "It's just the thing for the baby. Harmless. Safe. Contains no drugs or medicine. It's the most natural way in the world to keep everything normal. For Nujol not only prevents any excess of the body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal."

Let me give you another suggestion, too. Use Nujol on the outside of the baby. In place of powder. Just swab his skin, after the bath, with a bit of cotton moistened with Nujol. That's the new method they're using in the big hospitals. It has a wonderfully soothing, softening effect on the skin. There's no need for any baby to have rashes and chafing if you use Nujol. Get a big bottle and keep it specially for the baby. Get a separate bottle for yourself."

Why don't you try Nujol in your household? It was perfected by Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey).

Nujol can't do anyone—baby or grown-up—the least bit of harm. And so many people have found it beneficial. Be sure you get the genuine.

"Just the thing," said Doctor

SENATOR URGES TOLERANCE AND LOWER U.S. TAXES

Harrison Talks Here to Lumbermen.

Pat Harrison, United States senator from Mississippi, speaking at a dinner of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association at the Congress hotel last night, said present high federal taxes are unwarranted and substantial reductions should be made immediately.

Senator Harrison prefaced his tax reduction speech with a few remarks about the presidential possibilities. He said the senate is an incubator for White House candidates, and emphasized the point that most booms for presidential honors are launched one day and go to bow wows the next.

Fundamental Rights at Issue. "But issues of vital importance will be fought out in the fall campaign, issues for which our forefathers fought and gave their blood on battlefields—the right of free men to worship their God according to the dictates of their own consciences," he said.

The senator then began his discussion of high federal taxes. "It is my opinion, and the opinion of my colleagues of the minority on the finance committee of the senate, that not only will the treasury stand the elimination of the automobile tax, the elimination of the theater and amusement tax and duty tax, the $25,000,000 reduction in surtaxes, but that the corporation tax can be reduced to 11 per cent," he said. "It is now 15 1/2 per cent."

Doubts Treasury Figures. "It is said the treasury will not bear it. Yet in consideration of the 1921, 1924, and 1925 revenue acts the congress gave far greater reductions than the treasury recommended, and at the same time, a surplus piled up from $100,000,000 to $600,000,000 annually."

"Too, I believe a policy of too rapid liquidation of the national debt is unwise. If the amount of interest payments from foreign governments were applied today it would result in the reduction of taxes to the American people of from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 annually."

Favor Saving of Timber. The lumbermen finished a three-day session last night and leave for Washington at noon today to confer with Secretary Hoover. They yesterday adopted a resolution for a study of United States forests with a view to their preservation.

Statistics presented showed present growth produces approximately six million board feet, while annual consumption is thirty-five billion board feet.

Smallpox Victim Gives Police Station a Scare

Wabash avenue police were given a shock last night when Robert Green, 17, of 2218 16th street, Chicago Heights, walked into the station and said he believed he had smallpox. Sgt. Patrick Gallagher hastily summoned a physician. Green was ordered to go out on the curb and stay there. The doctor found Green was right in his surmise and ordered him sent to the contagious disease hospital. He said he had walked from Chicago Heights.

Two Tugs Fast in Ice; Believed in Great Danger

Onatagon, Mich., May 1.—[Special.]—Capt. Earl Couture, with the steam tug Recoon and Capt. Russell Couture with the tug Eagle, are fast in the ice five miles north of the harbor and have been there forty-eight hours. Their coal is low, they are out of provisions and are in great danger as Lake Superior is stormy this season of the year. They have no means of communication with land unless a plane can be procured.

"Food is like coal, in the human furnace"

"Our modern, over-rich and over-eaten people tend to pack in masses in the digestive tract. The digestive fluids cannot penetrate these masses. They rot and cause trouble."

"Like this coal, our food this will burn readily, while a shovel or two of fine coal dust, thrown into the furnace, will choke the fire, put it out—or cause an explosion."

Roman Meal, originated by the eminent dietitian-physician, Dr. Jackson, for the use of his own patients, is a scientific blending of wheat, rye, flaxseed and bran, the grains, not granules but crushed.

Cooked according to directions, it remains permeable to the digestive fluids and is readily assimilated. Its bulk provides exercise for the muscles of the digestive tract, making them strong and active. It provides the vital salts and other elements lacking in the modern diet.

It regulates, stimulates, builds.

New York, May 1.—(P)—The stock market ushered in the beginning of a new month by resuming its march to higher grounds. Waves of profit taking swept through the markets at intervals, but offerings were readily absorbed and new leaders were brought forward whenever the old favorites showed signs of retreating. Oils gave way to the rails as market leaders, although good demand also was noted for a sprinkling of automotive, rubber, public utility, equipment, farm implement, and metal shares. Transactions ran close to the 4,000,000 share mark.

Pairs of a credit stringency accounted for some liquidation, but failed to dampen the enthusiasm of powerful speculative pools, which again attracted a large out of town following. Lowering of the call money rate from the renewal figure of 6 per cent to 5½ signaled the passing of heavy month end demands for funds and the return of interest and dividend checks to the banks.

Oil Favorites Are Bought.
Foreword buying of such old time favorites as General Motors, American Can and American Smelting, which closed 1 to 2½ points higher, had a cheerful effect on sentiment. Spirited bidding for Chicago and Alton common and preferred, which advanced 4 and 5½ points, respectively, to new highs at 13 and 24½, featured the railroad group. New peak prices also were Heaviness cropped out in some of the tobacco, express, and department store shares. New low prices for the year were registered by Keith-Albee, Orpheum common and preferred, Orpheum Circuit preferred, and National Radiator preferred. ## BIENVILLE was Right!

From the day in 1718 that Bienville founded New Orleans on the Mississippi River because he had faith in his selection of a strategic location, that faith has burned steadily in the hearts of the people of the city. Today, more than two centuries after its founding, New Orleans has become the greatest city of the South and one of the greatest ports of the nation—a distribution point for the Mississippi Valley and Latin American markets.

This faith, too, is part of THE CANAL BANK of New Orleans. Founded for the city, this bank, which for ninety-seven years helped and financed projects that aided the city's growth, is keeping abreast of New Orleans in her rapid strides forward.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

If rains come in the southwest within the next few days wheat prices are considered high enough. Without them a further advance is predicted by one of the largest traders. The market has taken a big leap of late wheat the last two days. Many operators who took profits on the rise related part of their lines on yesterday's decline and expect to buy more unless rains come. Market holders remain bullish. Sentiment in corn was more mixed. A few local traders who have been on the buying side for several weeks took profits around $1.12 and $1.14, while traders with wheat bought and corn sold covered on the bull. One of the most persistent bulls on corn for the last six months predicts materially higher prices.

"Outside of the dry sections of northwest Kansas and southeast Colorado and Nebraska the only important unfavorable factor has been winter killing, which has been near a record because of a sudden and excessive drop in the temperature in December before plants had gone into full dormancy," says R. O. Cromwell, the Lamson Bros. & Co. expert. "This drop, together with the loose soil, allowed low temperatures to reach deeper into the ground around shallow-rooted plants." His report on the abandoned wheat in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois ranges from 66 to 70, the latter in Indiana. In other soft winter wheat states it is 37 to 67. Nebraska is 15, Kansas 17, Oklahoma 13, Texas 10, Montana 11, and four Pacific northwest states 7 per cent. Condition in the middle west ranges from 57 in Ohio to 70 in Missouri. Kansas and Nebraska are 50, Oklahoma 51, Kansas 51, and the north Pacific coast 91. Kansas is given 137,000,000 bu. against 111,000,000 bu. last year; Oklahoma, 58,700,000; Nebraska, 48,000,000. Last year Oklahoma had 33,000,000 bu. and Nebraska, 71,000,000 bu. Texas raised 18,000,000 bu. in 1927 against 23,000,000 bu. this year.

A Board of Trade membership sold yesterday at $17,500, or the same as on Monday.

M. Baird, owner of the property adjoining Frank S. Pagn & Co., was broker.

Brittain, Inc., maker of therapeutic lamps, has bought the two-story industrial building at 3745 Belmont avenue, lot 55x125, from the Schwarz & Baum company, through Rosenberg & Lurie.

A winter wheat crop of 472,000,000 bu was suggested by the average of the reports of local statisticians given to the trade yesterday, or 122,000,000 bu less than suggested at this time a year ago, and 80,000,000 bu under the harvest of 1927.

States east of the Mississippi river which seeded 13,795,000 acres winter wheat last fall have 7,075,000 acres remaining for harvest, according to R. O. Cromwell's report, against 11,884,000 acres last year, with an indicated crop of 30,000,000 bu against 17,352,000 bu in 1927. ## $650,000 LINDELL TOWER

First Mortgage Sinking Fund 6% Bonds
Dated: April 16, 1928—Interest from May 1, 1928—Due May 1, 1940

Interest payable May 1st and November 1st in each year. Principal and interest payable at Central Trust Company of Chicago, Illinois. Owner: Lewis-Marr Realty Company, Title: Guaranteed by New York Title & Mortgage Company, New York City. Callable: At 101 and accruing interest upon thirty days notice. Corporate Trustee: American Trust and Safe Deposit Company, Chicago, Illinois. Taxes: Normal Federal Income tax up to 24% on the annual interest, and all state taxes assessed on the principal or of income from said bonds not exceeding in the aggregate five mills per annum on each dollar of the principal of said bonds (except transfer, succession or inheritance tax or any tax in excess of five mills per dollar or part of any such tax) is refundable upon proper application.
A letter from Mr. Arthur F. Folger, President of the Lewis-Marr Realty Company, is summarized as follows:

Security: These bonds are secured by a direct closed first mortgage on land owned in fee and a 14-story fireproof apartment building erected thereon at 3743-3749 Lindell Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri. The land fronts 88 feet 5 1/2 inches on Lindell Boulevard, with a depth on the West line of 153 feet 1/4 inch and 142 feet 3/4 inch on the East, for a total area of 12,575 square feet. The land and building have been appraised by Mr. Isaac T. Cook, President, Isaac T. Cook & Co., nationally known St. Louis Real Estate concern, at $1,085,000.

Location: The property is unusually well located on Lindell Boulevard, the principal thoroughfare from the downtown section of the city to Forest Park and the Western residential districts. The building is convenient to numerous churches, schools and semi-public institutions, as well as close to an important amusement and business center. Adjoining the property on the east is the new Daniel Boone Apartments and just to the east of that property is the beautiful Coronado Hotel, one of the finest hotels in the country. The building is only a block and a half from the important intersection of Grand Avenue and Lindell Boulevard. This district contains many of the largest and finest theatre buildings in the city and is in fact the amusement center of St. Louis.

Transportation facilities in this vicinity include bus and surface lines and numerous private service automobiles—all giving 10 to 15 minute transportation to the central business district.

Building: The building will be fourteen stories and basement in height, of reinforced concrete construction, containing a total of 92 unfurnished apartments of 2, 3 and 4 rooms. There will be a 50-car garage in the basement of the building for the convenience of the tenants and as an additional source of revenue.

Sinking Fund: The trust deed securing this issue provides that the owner shall make monthly payments to the Corporate Trustee for the establishment of a sinking fund, these payments being sufficient to retire $232,200 of bonds before May 1, 1940, the date of maturity. The funds deposited in the sinking fund will be applied from time to time to the purchase of bonds from the bondholders thereof or in the open market, at the market price not to exceed 101% of the face principal amount, and any unexpended balance, if equal to or more than $10,000, will, on the 1st day of May of each year, from 1932 to 1939 inclusive, and also on April 1, 1940, be used for the redemption of outstanding bonds at 101 and accrued interest upon proper thirty-day notice.

Who Is the Capitalist?

Once "Capitalist" suggested an isolated figure of great wealth and greater power. Industry was his slave. Today, with millions of individual holders of stocks and bonds, every man is a "Capitalist" who has even a few hundred or a few thousand dollars to invest. In the aggregate these new investors are now the real rulers of Industry.

We appreciate the opportunity to serve both small and large investors and to supervise the selection of sound investments for them.

WHEAT DECLINES ON HEAVY SALES TO TAKE PROFITS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Immense profit taking developed in wheat yesterday following the issuance of the private crop estimates, and while there was free buying the selling was too heavy to be readily absorbed. After a range of 4½@5c the finish was within a fraction of the bottom with net losses of 3¼@4½c. July at the inside figure was off 5½c from the best price of Monday. Trade was extremely large and individual operations counted for little.

Deferred deliveries of corn sold at a new high on the crop early but the market ran into persistent profit taking, and broke 3/4@3/8c from the top and closed 1/4@3/8c lower, while oats after showing moderate strength early broke badly and lost 1/4@2/8c for the day with 7/8 off 2/4@3/8c.

Wheat in Weak Position.

Technician position in the wheat pit was weak, and with Liverpool showing a heavy undertone in the face of the upturn in American markets on Monday there was heavy selling in evidence from the start. Scattered buying made a rally but when the private reports were issued showing an average winter wheat crop of 472,000,000 bu, or 122,000,000 bu under the figures of a year ago, and 50,000,000 bu less than last year's harvest there was a wild wave of speculative selling headed by houses that have recently been aggressive buyers.

Pyramides were caught and with stop loss orders prices dropped sharply, with a strong rally later on reports of high winds in Nebraska, Colorado, and South Dakota. The finish, however, was weak on selling induced by prospects of rain in the southwest overnight.

Short Covering in Corn.
Local traders who recently bought

Wheat traders who recently bought wheat and sold corn started to reverse their operations and found offerings of corn light, and advanced the deferred deliveries to a new high for the season, but outside buying failed to develop and with free selling by commission houses the market eased sharply toward the last. Deliveries on May contracts were 2,507,000 bu, while purchases of 150,000 bu were made to arrive. Eastern demand was slow.

Cash interests bought May oats early, but profit taking was on in volume in the deferred deliveries and the close was about the bottom with new July showing the most decline.

Trade in rye was not large, and the market was dominated by the action of wheat.

A PART of the FINANCIAL STRUCTURE of CHICAGO

FOR MORE than a quarter of a century the demands of some thousands of people for financial service of a particular kind have been at work moulding this bank into its present form and state of efficiency. Its several departments have been developed in the rigorous school of constructive criticism from within and strong competition from without.

Under this pressure the institution has become an inseparable part of the financial and business structure of Chicago. It meets and expects to meet the most exacting demands of a well-rounded and complete banking, trust and investment service.

You are invited to make use of it.

Will Your Company Keep Pace?

---

THIS is a time when, as never before, the utmost efficiency is demanded of business organizations. Competition has reached its keenest. The struggle for markets is at its most intensive point. Business men—executives, personnel, organizations—are being tested as never before. So sharp, indeed, is the commercial conflict that all too many firms find themselves with greatly increased turnover and greatly diminished net profits.

Is your company prepared and keyed up for the greater tests to come?

Is its organization at the highest peak of efficiency?

Above all, is its financial structure sound, built on a basis at once economic and economical, suited to its market conditions, with overhead and distribution costs reduced to the efficiency level?

Is its financing everything it ought to be?

S. W. STRAUS & CO. is prepared to counsel with accredited officials of industrial and public utility corporations, with a view toward creating revised financial structures that will mean reduced operating expenses and increased dividends.

Dealing in railroad, utility, industrial, real estate, municipal, and foreign bonds, we render a dual service, in furnishing capital for large enterprises and in providing the public with sound investments.

We will be glad to consult with officers of any sound enterprise desirous of taking advantage of today's low money rates, with a view of considering a revised financial structure and the underwriting of securities in amounts of $1,000,000 upward.

First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, Series A

Due February 1, 1928 Due February 1, 1934

Principal and semi-annual interest, February 1 and August 1, payable in New York City. Coupon bonds in interchangeable denominations of $1,000 and $500, negotiable as to principal. Redeemable as will be provided in the mortgage. Interest payable without deduction for normal Federal income tax net to exceed two per cent per annum. Refund of certain Connecticut and Pennsylvania taxes not to exceed four mills, and Massachusetts income tax not to exceed six per cent, to resident holders upon written application within sixty days after payment. Central Union Trust Company of New York, Trustee.

Business: Ohio Water Service Company, incorporated under the laws of the State of Ohio, owns and operates the property supplying water service for domestic and industrial purposes in Massillon. Coincident with this financing, the Company is acquiring properties serving, among others, Struthers, Campbell, Marysville, Washington Court House, Circleville and several large industries in Youngstown. The acquisition of these properties has been authorized by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. The aggregate population of the territory now and presently to be served is estimated to be over 70,000. Through the control of Ohio Water Service Company by Federal Water Service Corporation these properties have the benefits of the expert technical and administrative staff of the latter, which controls one of the largest groups of water works systems in the United States. The properties are operated under the supervision of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, to the extent provided by the laws of that State.

Security: These Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage on all the physical properties now and presently to be owned by the Company, consisting principally of land, water mains, reservoirs, pumping stations and other equipment. The value of these properties, as reported, on the basis of reproduction cost new, less depreciation, is in excess of $5,345,000.

Earnings: Gross Revenues of the properties as reported for the year ended December 31, 1927, were $517,296, and balance after operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, other than Federal income tax, was $305,277 which is over twice the annual interest requirements of $150,000 on entire funded debt of the Company presently to be outstanding. After deducting additional maintenance and depreciation as will be provided in the mortgage and annual interest requirements on funded debt there is a balance of $141,809, which is approximately 2.2 times annual dividend requirements on the Preferred Stock of the Company presently to be outstanding.

SUCCESS IN CHAIN STORES SHOWN BY CHICAGO FIRMS

BY O. A. MATHER.

The spread of the chain store system of merchandising and its growing success is shown in yesterday's news. The Hartman corporation, which now operates 10 stores, announced the opening of several additional stores in the Chicago territory in the near future. It is expected the number will be increased to 200 as rapidly as plans now developed can be carried out.

Both Sears, Roebuck and company and Montgomery Ward and company have been opening stores in various parts of the country, reported good business last month, which contained one less working day than April, last year.

Sears-Roebuck Sales Increase.
April sales of Sears-Roebuck were $24,169,151, a gain of three-tenths of 1 per cent over April, 1927, and sales for the four months this year total $96,227,025, a gain of 6 1/2 per cent. April sales of Montgomery-Ward were $1,940,784, a decrease of 3 1/2 per cent from year ago, while sales for the four months were $7,517,219, a decline of forty-four-hundredths of 1 per cent.

Reflecting last month's results in general trade, there were only 1,813 commercial failures with liabilities of $34,985,112, according to Dun's Review. The number is the smallest for any April since 1924 and the liabilities are the smallest for that month since 1920. Moreover, both number of failures and indebtedness were smaller than in several preceding months.

Increase in Freight Loadings.

Distinct improvement in business also is indicated by the railroad movement of commodities, which is running more nearly on a par with a year ago than for several months. Revenue freight loadings for the week ended April 21 totaled 944,694 cars, an increase of 12,317 over the preceding week and only 5,851 below a year ago. But miscellaneous freight companies continues at a high level. Contracts distributed by states east of the Rocky mountains totaled $158,552,100 for the week ended April 27, according to the F. W. Dodge Corporation. The amount exceeded the preceding week by nearly $17,000,000. The daily average of contracts thus far this year has been $20,660,000, compared with $20,044,000 last year.

Oil News Unfavorable.

News of the petroleum industry was less cheerful. The daily average gross crude oil production last week totaled 1,405,500 barrels, according to the American Petroleum Institute. This marked an increase of 10,500 barrels a day over the previous week, an increase of 12,317 over the preceding week and only 5,851 below a year ago. But miscellaneous freight companies continues at a high level. Contracts distributed by states east of the Rocky mountains totaled $158,552,100 for the week ended April 27, according to the F. W. Dodge Corporation. The amount exceeded the preceding week by nearly $17,000,000. The daily average of contracts thus far this year has been $20,660,000, compared with $20,044,000 last year.

Three Generations

By WARWICK DEEPIING

SYNOPSIS.
Old John Pybus, formerly a bookkeeper in London and later in Winterbourn, is serving a prison term in an inn at Castle Crown when his son, Conrad, sees him there. He's been released from both his sons since the beginning of the war and they have lost track of him. Conrad hastens to tell his brother, Probyn, that he has seen his father. Probyn's last without telling his parents.

INSTALLMENT XVI.
AN INVITATION.
A smile passed between Lance and his grandfather. They stood side by side watching the kettle, and waiting for its voice to be raised.
"I say—ought I to have put some hot water in the teapot?"
"Never mind today."
"Sins of omission! Tell me, grandpater, was that true?"
"What?"
"That you haven't had a holiday for years?"
"What is a holiday?"
"Then you haven't."
"I have not removed my body to some place by the seaside or into Wales or the lake district. But the other part of me has traveled."
"Have you ever been to Cambridge, grandpater?"
"No."
Lance's face was very serious.
"I'm going up again next Tuesday. My last year. Would you come up for a few days this term, and stay with me? I can get you a room outside, and you could feed with me."
Old Pybus looked hard at him and was silent.
"I'd love you to come up, grandpater. I want you to meet two or three fellows, Sorrell and Freshman. And we should be able to talk. I shouldn't have to rush off."
Having filled the teapot, he glanced at his grandfather, who was holding the lid of it.
"Will you?"
"My son," said old Pybus, "I will."
"I make one condition, Lance."
"Yes, grandpater."
"I pay. Do you understand me?"
"But you will be my guest."
"Not exactly—yours. God forgive both our prides."
Lance looked at his grandfather with a flushed seriousness.

The Venerable had lit his lamp and tilted the shade so that the light shone over his left shoulder.

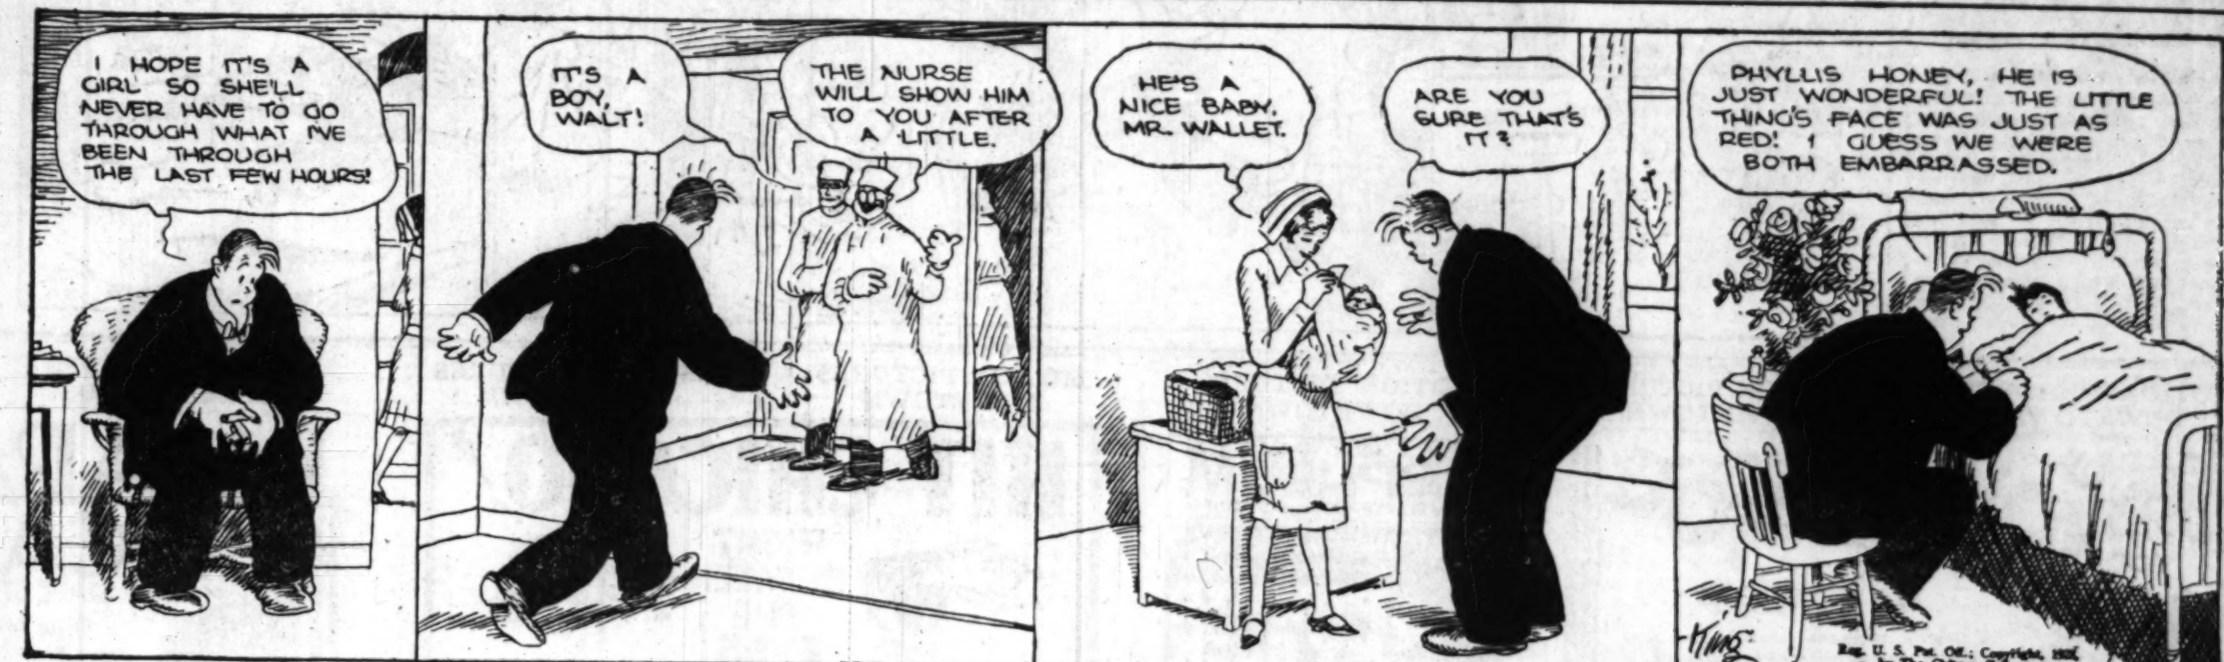

"I understand—'I'm sorry—Of course—"
"There's no need for you to be sorry," said old Pybus with a blue flash of the eyes. "The 'boots' of the Saracen's Head visits his grandson at Trinity. I take off my hat to my grandson, and I take off my hat to myself."
Lance helped himself to strawberry jam. If the moment was rich in emotion, it had other inferences, and little jarrings of the memory. Was the mood of the moment ever of one texture, simple and continuous, like a red or yellow jelly? You saw people like figures in a landscape. The very "I" of yourself was a complex of seeming contradictions. The venerable walking round the great court at Trinity would seem a part of the mysterious reality of things. Whereas—his father—Lance had heard men say, "Awful bore, but the governor's coming up for the week-end," though some of them were set against of their fathers, and may have felt for them a tolerant affection. What was snobbery? If your father made the intimate inward self of you vince, was that snobbery? And yet how queer it was that he should be conscious of pride at the thought of walking about Cambridge with his grandfather, a little old fellow in a bowler hat. Was it affection, or a mere flash of egotism, or defiance? Was there not some deep and rather sacred bond between them? But how ironical! The venerable had been the despised and the rejected of his sons, and the son of one of the sons was reversing the process, not as a prig, but rather as a disciple.

With his elbows on the table, and his eyes fixed on his grandfather's face, Lance made his confession.
"The pater has been rather decent. I told him— He has offered me two years."
"An allowance?"
"Two hundred a year for two years—when I go down. I'm wondering whether I ought to take it."
"You have taken it—for twenty years."
"I know. But this is different. I'm self-conscious—"
"More tea, Lance?"
"Yes, another cup. I want you to tell me something, grandpater."
"Well?"
"Did you ever feel—enemy—in your own father?"
"Yes—and no. We clashed—sometimes. What else can you expect? Two live personalities. Just as Probyn and Conrad clashed with me. But my father had a sense of justice. In these days you'd call him a sportsman."
"Generations differ in their ideas of justice. What's to happen at the end of these two years?"
Lance took the cup from his grandfather's outstretched hand. He looked at the cup and not at the venerable's face, but he seemed to be aware of the venerable's eyes looking at him and into him. His grandfather had asked the one inevitable and pregnant question, just as Lance had realized that he must be expected to ask it.

"He wants to see me fail. He's letting me make a fool of myself. He's quite kind about it—but I'm the silly prodigal back from the hussies. I shall go like a sheep into the shearing pen."
They looked at each other.
"Did that come to you. Like catching some one grinning in a mirror—"
"Yes—but I am not supposed to be looking. It's damnable to feel—"
His grandfather got up and reached for his tobacco tin.
"Prove people wrong. That's the only way. Remove that grin. It comes off like a mask—when they see you yourself—not the little manufactured self they'd like to make you. Was there not some deep and rather sacred bond between them? But how ironical! The venerable had been the despised and the rejected of his sons, and the son of one of the sons was reversing the process, not as a prig, but rather as a disciple."

"I shall see you again till Cambridge. You—will—come?"
"O, yes—I shall come."
"I'll write and let you know. O, perhaps you would like to fix it. The end of the month?"
"You haven't told them yet?"
"No."
Just before getting into the car he remembered something. He drew a slip of paper from an inner breast pocket.
"I want you to read some of my stuff, grandpater, will you?"
"What's that? Manuscript?"
"A short story. You may think it a bit intimate."
"I'll read it."
"I want you to tell me—no humbug. Of course—I think it rather good—but I dare say that in five years I shall think it tosh."
"No humbug."
"Not from you."
The venerable had lit his lamp, and tilted the green lamp shade so that the light shone over his left shoulder. His grandson's manuscript, neatly folded down the middle, lay on the oak table. It had been lying there untouched for quite a quarter of an hour, while old Pybus sat very straight in his Windsor chair, and pulled hard at his pipe. Twice he had put out a hand to pick up those sheets of paper, and each time his courage had failed him.

Because, if the boy wrote rubbish, or expressed himself with a conventional and uninspired facility—If he expected recent criticism, and were to resent criticism? Because it is human to resent criticism. No humbug! Youth fares quickly, or looks sullen and hurt when challenged. No humbug! That was all very well. But in asking for sincerity from those we love, that was a sword, and a courage that does not flinch. We ask them to stand up and wound, and in wounding—to be wounded. Just how candid can a friend be, and is candor a poison or a purge?

By Mae Tinie.
Good Morning!
If you would know what a political boss does with his leisure hours (evening leisure hours) take a peep into the life and affairs of Mike Cassidy of New York.

Whose wife does not understand him?
Ah! No! Whose wife understands him but too well.
Cassidy, who has in him all the makings of a gay old dog, is repressed. Mrs. Cassidy prefers to stay at home and she prefers that Mr. Cassidy stay at home with her. And Mrs. Cassidy had a way of making her preferences prevail.
But there comes a night when—Cassidy gets out. He joins a group of lusty henchmen who have gathered together to give him his annual dinner at the Silver Spoon night club, and, by order of the jovial manager, accord special attention by the star performer of a troupe of so-called Grecian dancers. Cassidy lands in his dressing room and is about to show Mike Venus how an Irishman makes love when—
Enters Simmonides, the strong man of the troupe, all knotted up with throes of jealousy. Simmonides speaks with his fist—and Cassidy has a beautiful dream of ancient and modern Greece with a good old New York stick in it—which furnishes the material that the rest of the picture is made from.
Mr. Murray and Miss Fazenda make a good team though there's not enough of Miss Fazenda. Their support and direction are satisfactory.

New Star (Dog) Rises in Movie Firmament

"UNDER THE BLACK EAGLE."

Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.
Directed by W. S. Van Dyke.
Presented at the Radio theater.
THE CAST:
Earl.....Ralph Forbes
Margaret.....Marjorie Day
Hans.....John Barrymore
The Colonel.....Marc MacDermott
Print.....Flash

And may we present Mr. Flash, the remarkable new movie (dog) actor?
Flash is a German police dog and a handsome fellow. Also he has dog personality, can you? He is like Rin-Tin-Tin and yet as different as can be from that noble hound. He is no more brilliant but shows, I should say, more warmth than his distinguished fellow countrydog—an almost feminine tenderness, so to speak. He intrigues me greatly, and you, I think, will love the gallant fellow who, if one is to believe reports, understood more than 400 spoken words.
"Under the Black Eagle" is a story of the great war and much of its action takes place on the battle front where strife between Germans and Russians wages.
Flash becomes the property of a young German artist, who, while serving with the military class of the 1918, saves Flash from the cruelty of the officer in charge of the training of the police dogs.
The picture is well staged and might human and touching in spots. [Flash is in most of the spots.]
Ralph Forbes gives an excellent account of himself as that bravest of men in the world—the fellow who is afraid but fights just the same—a double battle. He and Flash carry off the honors, and they are quite ably supported and directed.
And there's something to be surprised to see him open his mouth and put into words the thoughts that are behind those beautiful, intelligent loving eyes of his.
See you tomorrow!

Bast Is Defended by Brother Bishop

Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—(P)—Bishop Anton Bast of Copenhagen, whose trial before a court of the Methodist Episcopal church on charges of conduct unbecoming a minister is scheduled to take place in connection with the church's quadrennial general conference here, was warmly praised by a brother European bishop, Edgar Blake of Paris.
Bishop Blake, who has had general supervision over part of the Copenhagen area since Bishop Bast became involved in civil difficulties before the alleged misuse of church funds, described his accused brother as a genius, an indefatigable worker, and outstanding in his accomplishments.
Bishop Blake's report was regarded as significant in that it came to the bishop's defense before the ecclesiastical court could open its sessions. It was believed the court of 17 ministers may be chosen tomorrow.
Bishop Bast was suspended following his conviction in a Danish civil court. He served three months in jail. He is expected to remain in seclusion until his case is called by the court.
Without mentioning his name, Bishop Blake read into the report a scathing denunciation of the Rev. John P. Ingerslew, former pastor of the Jerusalem Methodist church of Copenhagen, who was expelled by a church tribunal for testifying against his superior in a civil court. Later he sued the church for salary and was awarded $10,000 in a civil court, the church appealing.

Another of Old St. Columbkille's Boys Is a Bishop

Msgr. Shell Is Elevated in Churchly Pomp.
BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.
Now he is the Rt. Rev. Bernard James Shell, D. D., titular bishop of Pige and auxiliary bishop of Chicago.
For the one-time newsboy, "little Bemie Shell," born and reared in St. Columbkille's parish on the west side, became a bishop yesterday at Holy Name cathedral, amid ceremonies replete with the symbolism and splendor of the Roman Catholic liturgy throughout the centuries.
At the conclusion of the lengthy consecration services, it was Bishop Shell who turned from the altar, his monsignor's robes exchanged for the bishop's cope, his pastoral staff in his newly anointed hands and the mitre replacing his biretta, to walk down the church giving his blessing to the large congregation.

But it was "little Bemie Shell" again, who stopped with his escort, Bishops E. F. Hoban of Chicago and E. M. Dunne of Peoria, at the first pew at the right of the altar, and held out his hand to his proud and happy mother, that her lips might be the first to touch his episcopal ring. His father died six months ago.
And as the triumvirate of prelates moved down the aisle to the door, then back again to the altar where Cardinal Mundelein, the consecrator, awaited them, they walked together who had trod the same paths separately.
All were born in Chicago. All served at the altar of old St. Columbkille's—referred to yesterday as "the bishops' parish"—Bishop Dunne as assistant pastor and the other two as altar boys. All began their priestly careers in Chicago; all served at various times as chancellor of the archdiocese; and all were consecrated to the bishopric in Holy Name cathedral.
At 10 o'clock the combined vested choirs of St. Mary of the Lake and Quigley Preparatory seminaries, stationed in the gallery with thirty-five members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, burst into the "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus" (Behold the Great Priest), as the procession of hundreds of prelates, priests and altar boys filed down the nave to the sanctuary. It was three and a half hours later when the "Te Deum" signified that the services were over.
Ceremonies in profusion had taken place in the interior. There was the formal presentation of Bishop Shell to Cardinal Mundelein for consecration by Bishop Dunne; the public examination of the candidate, and his profession of faith. The blessing of the new bishop's insignia, the crozier, the mitre, the ring; the anointing of his head and hands with oil in the form of a cross; his presentation to the consecrator of two lighted torches, two small loaves of bread and two small cakes of wine.
But the simple rite by which the episcopal order was conferred was the imposition of hands. Cardinal Mundelein and the co-consecrators, Bishops Hoban and Dunne, placed their hands upon the head of the new bishop and said:
"Receive the Holy Ghost."
The moment was an impressive one, the tableau in the sanctuary memorable. The scarlet robes of the cardinal, the bishops, and their assistants heavy with gold embroidery and fringe; the red and white mitres of the consecrators; the blazing candelabra and golden vessels on the altar; the tall cathedral candles and the masses of red roses and ferns behind; in the foreground the red and black and purple and white of the vestments of the bishops, monsignori, priests, and servers.
In his sermon the Very Rev. W. J. Bergen, C. S. V., of St. Viator's college at Bourbonnais, Ill., and a former instructor there of Bishop Shell, paid glowing tribute to the humility and ardor of his former pupil, and extended the felicitations of his friends and associates.
A dinner for the clergy was served at the Drake hotel after the consecration.
Bishop Shell will sing his first pontifical high mass next Sunday at St. Columbkille's church. He will enter immediately upon the duties of his new office. Bishop Hoban, his predecessor and now bishop designate of the Rockford diocese, will leave on May 15 to take up the administrative duties of the diocese vacated by the death of Bishop Muldoon.

Oldest Beauty Cure in the World Is Simply Sleep

A girl of 20 was confiding her doings of the last ten days to a friend. It was in front of a washroom mirror. The girl of the confidence was that she hadn't been to bed one single night in that time before one o'clock.

"You look it," said the friend. "Yes, but it's a great life while it lasts," was the come back.

It wasn't a holiday week. And, of course, I don't know what was the occasion for a ten consecutive nights' celebration. But that burning up of energy night after night with late hours and the coyness that is usually included in it certainly does play havoc with a girl's looks. And with more than her looks.

A noted physician recently announced that half of the nervous ill of girls and women are due to lack of sleep. If one didn't have to work the next day one could re-stock on energy. But there are few women, nowadays, who are without day duties of some kind. If the duties are office or shop and you add the energy and anxiety of a business day to the night and you have a fairly staggering sum of energy depletion by the end of a week of evenings out and up late.

Of course, the late hours at which parties start does necessarily shift the retiring hour forward a good deal and I doubt if we can reform hostesses in this regard. But at least one can use a bit of sense about arranging one's life and getting a sane amount of sleep.

Suppose you can't get around and see anything or any one if you have to put in nine hours for sleep. At least, you can't have to goading EVERY night. Your power of enjoying people and shows and dances and night clubs is furnished largely by the health you bring with you.

There are women who aren't much on gadding about who, on the other hand, will simply loaf around the house until twelve and one. They can't tell you the next day what they stayed up so late for. But they feel they did. It's not one night, but every night, the habit of not disciplining oneself about retiring when there is nothing to stay up for.

The oldest beauty remedy in the world is sleep. Time cannot dim its recuperative power. So it is up to you and your own good sense to arrange your evenings and entertainment, so that you don't rob the energy bank completely.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Before the sun goes down next Saturday night every gardener in this neck of the woods should have planted the first round of early vegetables. Gardeners who have been at it for years in this section figure they are usually safe in planning the first crops during the first half of May if the ground is dry enough to work. Beets, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, chard, kohlrabi, lettuce, onion, parsnip, Irish potatoes, and radishes.

Cabbage, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, and kohlrabi are usually started under glass early and are ready to set out when the temperature in the open garden is high enough. The Detroit, Egyptian and Eclipse are best varieties recommended. Danvers Half Long and Chantenay are high quality carrot varieties. Gurnsey and Hollow Crown are good varieties of parsnips. The Globe and Icicle are sturdy radish varieties.

If you do not know what kind and varieties of vegetables to plant in a city garden get a copy of "Suburban Gardening." This pocket sized handbook on gardening will be found a valuable guide to amateur home gardeners through the summer. "Suburban Gardening" was written by Frank Ridgway and published by The Tribune. Copies are now available at The Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, or in the lobby of the Tribune Tower, for 10 cents by mail.

An Unusual Show

My son gave me a lovely umbrella for Christmas and I planned to be very choosy with it, so I laid it away until spring—placing tissue paper between each fold to keep the silk from cracking.

Having left my old umbrella in the machine and going to the city, I took the new one and started for the train. When I arrived in town and rain was falling, I opened my umbrella and received a shower of tissue paper. It caused a lot of fun but was most embarrassing. B. S.

You Need More Than a Smile

By Edna Wallace Hopper
It's pleasant to know that your glowing white teeth fascinate and allure. But we who make an earnest study of health and youth preservation demand more than cleanliness. The enamel and gums must be protected.

To assure the greatest protection against wearing away of precious enamel I have had a dentist understand perfectly the effects of the various ingredients of the tooth called Quinidant.

I am convinced that it is not only as effective as the tooth cleanser and polishes the teeth perfectly, but it purifies the breath, and, above all, counteracts the ever-present acids. This last protection is due to one of its most valuable properties—milk of magnesia, which is used separately as a mouth wash—dentists had produced Quinidant.

Quinidant is not a biting, astringent. It is pleasant and I advise you to leave a slight coating of it on the gums and tongue, which is effective for hours.

You can obtain Quinidant at any toilet counter; 50 cents for a large tube.

Lace Gown Is Still an Asset of Fashion

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence]—There will be no fall from lace this spring. For example, Monsieur Lelong, who created the model we show today, has expressed himself very strongly on the subject. "I believe," says M. Lelong, "that the lace frock is a mode too good to lose. So long as women are women we shall always have this medium which expresses so well feminine charm and mystery."

Fitting the action to the word, Lelong shows many lace models in his spring collections. So also do Chanel and Vionnet. In fact, there is not a single great French designer who has neglected the possibilities of lace. Effluent of our present mode is the fashioning of the lace gown. In this case one observes immediately the close relation between the movement of the bolero and that of the skirt. Both are divided in the front and both dip downward in the back.

All the edges of the gown are piped with beige satin and a belt of the same satin is adjusted with a strass buckle.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on plain paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunt Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Bobbie is only 3, but is large for her age.

Yesterday her aunt returned from a winter in California and Bobbie raced right over to see her.

"Well, dear Aunt Barbara, glad to see you, dear," mother inquired later.

"Yes," replied the child briefly.

"And what did she have to say?" continued mother.

Bobbie heaved a sigh. "O, her dear looked me over and said like every other folks, that how big I am!" replied Bobbie.

This is the letter I received:

"Dear grandma: I am writing to you in hope of getting an answer. I bank my spending money every week at school which they will save for me. I would like to join the campfire girls but as my money is in storage, I wish you would send me 60 cents, which is not much to you, but it is to me. Your loving grandchild, Jane."

Soap and Water Hold Slight Allure for Small Boys

"It's only six o'clock, Bill—you'll have plenty of time to make a good job of those hands before dinner. Suppose you start now."

Unusual acquiescence is followed by encouraging sounds of running water, and a very quick remembrance.

"Well, that was speedy. Let's see them," but your fingers are dark grey, old man."

"But, Father, I scrubbed and scrubbed—and it won't come off."

"Honest? Then I'll tell you what—you do what my mother used to have me do when I was a kid. Take this pair of your socks and wash them good and clean."

Bill disappears with a thumpy tread of his feet for such mental tasks. A long time elapses. At last he appears again.

"How's this?" he says and produces an immaculate pair of paws.

"That's something like it, old man—but your wrists—they don't belong at all. What happened to them?"

"O, I just got them . . . I was thinking about the baseball game this afternoon."

"Well, finish it up, and while you were about it, why didn't you wash your face?"

"But you didn't say anything about my face—you only said give your hands a good scrubbing."

Disappearance number three takes place to a faintly inexpressive expression. A hopefully long interval ensues. Appearance the third is accompanied with a look of pride.

"All through? Good—now we'll have time to read the . . . Bill Jonathan Jones, you have certainly become a wit at geography—here on this side of your face is North America and on that side is darkest Africa. How could you possibly wash your face and get so little dirt off? Make another start and wash north to your hair and south to your collar and east and west to your ears. And then dry thoroughly with a towel."

"Yes, Father, I don't see the sense in all this washing—it just spoils everything."

He is about to go on with his favorite harangue but he sees a Certain Look in his father's face, so he says no more.

Poor Bill—he belongs to the Brotherhood of the Great Unwilling Washers. Quite sincerely they simply abhor this ceremony of the washing of hands and face.
